Medical Professional Certified Case Manager Certification Exam (CCM) Sample Questions (Q82-Q87):

NEW QUESTION # 82

Which one answer holds two statements that are both correct with regards to risks and key considerations regarding the Golden Principles?

- A. "The Employer obtains the best value for money" AND "Disputes should be avoided to the extent achievable."
- B. "Only the Employer should be the one to obtain the best value for money" AND "The Contractor /Subcontractor is paid adequately and timely in accordance with the Contract to maintain its cash flow."
- C. "The Contractor should take advantage of its bargaining power every time possible" AND "Disputes are avoided to the extent achievable, minimised when they do arise, and resolved efficiently."
- D. "The Contractor/Subcontractor is paid adequately and in a timely manner in accordance with the Contract to maintain its cash flow" AND "The terms of the Contract are comprehensive and fair to primarily the Employer".

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Option A correctly reflects Golden Principles emphasizing the Employer's objective of obtaining value for money and the importance of avoiding disputes as much as possible.

Other options either misrepresent the balanced nature of FIDIC principles or promote unfair or unbalanced positions.

NEW QUESTION # 83

Which one of the following statements best describes the requirements of Time for Completion?

- A. This is one of the Contractor's obligations, namely the completion of most of the Works (except minor outstanding works), within the Time for Completion calculated from the Effective Date.
- B. This is the Contractor's fundamental time-related obligation, namely the completion of most of the Works (except minor outstanding works), within the Time for Completion calculated from the Commencement Date.
- C. This is the Contractor's fundamental time-related obligation, namely completion the whole of the Works within the Time for Completion calculated from the Commencement Date.
- D. This is one of the Contractor's obligations, namely the completion of most of the Works (except minor outstanding works), within the Time for Completion calculated from the Commencement Date.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Option A best describes the Time for Completion as the Contractor's fundamental obligation to complete the entire Works within the contractual Time for Completion, calculated from the Commencement Date.

Options B, C, and D incorrectly limit the scope to "most" of the Works or confuse the reference date.

The Time for Completion sets the critical timeline for contract performance and triggering of delay damages or extensions.

NEW QUESTION # 84

Regarding the FIDIC Red Book (edition 1999): which two statements are true in respect of Building Information Modelling (BIM)? Choose all of the correct answers (multiple possibilities).

- A. General Conditions of Contract require the use of BIM.
- B. BIM is one of the digital data technologies used in all aspects of project planning, investigation, design, construction and operation.
- C. BIM is not related to the improvement of quality, accuracy, delivery times and cost savings.
- D. For construction or building projects involving BIM, many Sub-Clauses of FIDIC Red Book (edition 2017) should be thoroughly reviewed when drafting the Particular Conditions.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Option B is correct: BIM is indeed a digital data technology applicable throughout the project lifecycle.

Option D is correct: Use of BIM requires careful consideration of contract clauses and appropriate adjustments in Particular Conditions.

Option A is incorrect; the 1999 edition does not mandate BIM use.

Option C is false; BIM improves quality, accuracy, delivery times, and cost efficiency.

NEW QUESTION # 85

Which one of the following statements regarding drafting contracts based on FIDIC Books is correct?

- A. The FIDIC Books provide people who draft contracts with great examples on how to draft a good contract model. Furthermore, arrangements from Red, Yellow and Silver Books can be easily mixed to get a good fit for a specific project.
- B. People who draft contracts should, when preparing a new contract, always start with the question: where do I want to lay the most risks between Employer and Contractor, and does the Employer has the budget to reward Contractors with a high risk appetite?
- C. Amending clauses, supposedly in the interest of the Employer, immediately nullifies all the advantages of standardization, and almost invariably introduces conflicting or ambiguous requirements on the parties, and often causes mistrust between them.
- D. The Form of Contract is chosen by the Contractor and imposed by him on the Employer, who tenders on that basis.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Option D is correct because contract drafting should strategically allocate risks between parties based on who can best manage them and the Employer's budget for risk and reward. Understanding risk appetite is key to tailoring FIDIC contracts appropriately.

Option A is exaggerated; while amendments can introduce issues, careful drafting can preserve benefits of standardization.

Option B is partly true but mixing arrangements is complex and not always straightforward.

Option C is incorrect; the Employer usually chooses the contract form.

NEW QUESTION # 86

A new important feature of the FIDIC Yellow and Silver Books (edition 2017) is the inclusion of the default position that the Works or relevant part of the Works designed by the Contractor shall be fit for their ordinary purposes. Is this statement true or false?

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: B

Explanation:

This statement is true. The FIDIC Yellow and Silver Books (2017 editions) include a clear provision that the Works, or the parts designed by the Contractor, must be fit for their ordinary purposes, reflecting the Contractor's responsibility for design and performance. This introduces an express fitness-for-purpose obligation, which was less explicit in earlier editions.

This provision clarifies risk allocation related to design liability, ensuring that the Contractor is accountable for the fitness of the designed works unless otherwise specified.
