- A. Create vaults.
- B. Create media pools.
- C. Create media sets.
- D. Create libraries.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 29

Which backup method will always produce a full backup as the most recent restore point?

- A. Forward incremental backup
- B. Forward incremental with transform
- C. Forever forward incremental backup
- D. Reverse incremental backup

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 30

A power outage on Site A is expected during the night. The disaster recovery strategy has been implemented (see diagram). What is the correct way to start replicated VMs on Site B to minimize data loss?

- A. Power on VMs manually through vCenter.
- B. Execute "Planned failover".
- C. Execute "Failover plan".
- D. Execute "Permanent failover" from vCenter.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A planned failover is a process that allows for the seamless switching from the original VMs at Site A to their replicas at Site B with no data loss. This is the correct course of action when a power outage is expected, as it is a controlled process that ensures that all data is synchronized before the switch is made. This action minimizes data loss and ensures that the VMs on Site B are up-to-date.

NEW QUESTION # 31

The configuration database is corrupted, and the backup administrator wants to recover the data. Which configuration restore mode should be used?

- A. Failover
- B. Restore
- C. Instant Recovery
- D. Migrate

Answer: B

Explanation:

In the event that the Veeam Backup & Replication configuration database is corrupted, the appropriate action to take is to perform a configuration restore. Veeam Backup & Replication allows you to back up and restore its configuration database. The Restore option should be used to recover the data from a configuration backup.

This process will restore the configuration database from the backup file, which includes information about backup jobs, repository settings, and more. Instant Recovery, Failover, and Migrate are not appropriate options for recovering a corrupted configuration database. Instant Recovery is used to quickly restore a VM to a running state, Failover is used for High Availability in case a VM fails, and Migrate is used to move VMs from one host or storage to another.

NEW QUESTION # 32

An administrator needs to dynamically add VMware VMs that have a custom application installed to a backup job. How can this job be created?

- A. Create a backup job based on vSphere tags.
- B. Modify a custom CSV file to be scanned before the start of each job.
- C. Use the RESTful API to scan the VM inventory for machines that match the criteria.
- D. In Enterprise Manager, create a dynamic group of VMs that contain both tags.

Answer: A

Explanation:

To dynamically include VMware VMs with a custom application installed in a backup job, the most efficient approach is C: Create a backup job based on vSphere tags. VMware vSphere tagging allows administrators to assign metadata to VMs, making it easier to categorize and manage them according to various criteria, such as application type, department, or any custom criteria relevant to the organization. Veeam Backup & Replication can leverage these tags to dynamically include VMs in backup jobs. By setting up a backup job to include VMs tagged with a specific identifier related to the custom application, any VM tagged accordingly will be automatically included in the backup job. This approach simplifies management, ensures consistency, and allows for the flexible and dynamic grouping of VMs based on changing criteria without the need for manual adjustments to the backup job configuration.
