問題 #155

What department is responsible for producing a product from available resources?

- A. Legal
- B. Sales
- C. Operations
- D. Marketing

答案： C

解題說明：

Comprehensive and Detailed in Depth Explanation:

The operations department is responsible for managing the production process, which includes transforming available resources (e.g., raw materials, labor) into finished products or services. Operations ensures efficiency and quality in production, a key function in manufacturing or service-oriented organizations.

* Option A (Legal): The legal department handles compliance and legal issues, not production.

* Option B (Operations): Correct, as operations oversees the production process.

* Option C (Marketing): Marketing focuses on promoting products, not producing them.
