CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q49-Q54):

NEW QUESTION # 49

As the WLAN engineer in your organization, you must troubleshoot performance problems related to co-channel interference

(CCI).

What is a good measurement of CCI impact in addition to the number of APs seen on a channel?

- A. Utilization
- B. Non-Wi-Fi device count
- C. Retries
- D. The frequency used

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 50

Prior to a retransmission what happens to the CWmax value?

- A. Reset to 0
- B. Increases by 1
- C. Doubles and increases by 1
- D. Set to the value of the AIFSN

Answer: C

Explanation:

Before a retransmission, the CWmax (Contention Window maximum) value doubles and increases by 1. The CWmax is a parameter that determines the upper limit of the random backoff time that a STA (station) has to wait before attempting to access the medium. The random backoff time is chosen from a range of values between CWmin (Contention Window minimum) and CWmax. The CWmin and CWmax values depend on the AC (Access Category) of the traffic and the PHY type of the STA. If a transmission fails due to a collision or an error, the STA has to retransmit the frame after waiting for another random backoff time. However, to reduce the probability of another collision, the STA increases its CWmax value by doubling it and adding 1.

This increases the range of possible backoff values and spreads out the STAs more evenly. The STA resets its CWmax value to its original value after a successful transmission or after reaching a predefined limit. #### NEW QUESTION # 51

You are troubleshooting throughput problems for a WLAN cell. The cell is provisioned with an 802.11ac dual-band AP. Users connected with both 5 GHz and 2.4 GHz connections are reporting performance problems.

The AP settings are properly optimized. No interface issues have been detected (either co-channel interference or non-Wi-Fi interference) and the number of associated users is low.

What should you analyze to resolve the issue?

- A. The 2.4 GHz radio configuration
- B. the Ethernet uplink and the network infrastructure
- C. The antennas used on the client devices
- D. The 5 GHz radio configuration

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 52

When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, to which portion of the frame is the encryption applied?

- A. Frame body excluding the LLC PDU
- B. Frame body and MAC Header
- C. The whole MPDU
- D. Frame body including the LLC PDU

Answer: D

Explanation:

When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, the encryption is applied to the frame body including the LLC PDU. The LLC PDU

(Logical Link Control Protocol Data Unit) is a part of the frame body that contains information such as protocol type, source and destination service access points (SAPs), and control fields. The LLC PDU is added by the LLC (Logical Link Control) sublayer to provide multiplexing and flow control functions for different upper layer protocols. When a data frame is encrypted with WPA2, which uses AES-CCMP as its encryption algorithm, both the payload and the LLC PDU are encrypted as a single unit. The MAC header and FCS are not encrypted, as they are needed for addressing and error detection purposes. ### NEW QUESTION # 53

You view a protocol analyzer capture decode with the following protocol frames listed in the following order (excluding the ACK frames): 1) 802.11 Probe Request and 802.11 Probe Response 2) 802.11 Auth and another 802.11 Auth 3) 802.11 Assoc Req and 802.11 Assoc Rsp 4) EAPOL-Start 5) EAP Request and EAP Response 6) EAP Request and EAP Response 7) EAP Request and EAP Response 8) EAP Request and EAP Response 9) EAP Request and EAP Response 10) EAP Success 11) EAPOL-Key (4 frames in a row) What are you seeing in the capture file?

- A. WPA2-Enterprise authentication
- B. WPA2-Personal authentication
- C. 802.1X with Dynamic WEP
- D. Wi-Fi Protected Setup with PIN

Answer: A
