- D. between ge 0/2.101 of port-type service and ge 0/0 of port-type transport

Answer: D

Explanation:

The tloc-extension command in Cisco SD-WAN (vEdge) configuration is used to extend the Transport Locator (TLOC) from one interface to another. This is typically done to bind interfaces that might be on different physical networks but should be treated as if they are on the same transport.

Looking at the configuration in the exhibit:

- The interface ge0/2.101 is being configured.
- The tloc-extension ge0/0 command binds the TLOC of ge0/0 to ge0/2.101.

For the TLOC extension, the binding is typically between a transport interface and another interface that is not a transport interface. This allows the interface ge0/2.101 to utilize the TLOC of ge0/0 to communicate across the SD-WAN fabric.
