NEW QUESTION # 70

Bloomington Caregivers is launching a patient portal with contact tracing functionality as part of its Health Cloud implementation.
Users require the ability to leverage advanced sharing and customizable dashboards.
Which license should a consultant recommend for the external patient users?

- A. External Apps for Health Cloud
- B. Customer Community Plus for Health Cloud
- C. Experience Cloud for Health Cloud
- D. Customer Community for Health Cloud

Answer: B

Explanation:
When launching a patient portal with contact tracing functionality as part of a Health Cloud implementation, it's crucial to select a license that supports advanced sharing capabilities and customizable dashboards for external patient users. The Customer Community Plus for Health Cloud license is the most appropriate choice to meet these requirements.
Key Features of Customer Community Plus for Health Cloud:
Advanced Sharing: This license offers advanced sharing capabilities, allowing for more granular control over data access. This ensures that patients can securely access their health information while maintaining compliance with privacy regulations.
Customizable Dashboards: With this license, users have access to customizable dashboards, enabling the presentation of personalized health data, appointment schedules, and other relevant information in an intuitive and user-friendly interface.
Enhanced Permissions: Customer Community Plus provides enhanced permissions compared to the standard Customer Community license, including the ability for users to manage their own records and collaborate more effectively with healthcare providers.
Considerations:
User Access Requirements: Assess the specific needs of your patient users, including the types of data they need to access and the level of interaction required within the portal. Customer Community Plus supports more complex use cases involving data sharing and collaboration.
Compliance and Security: Ensure that the chosen license aligns with healthcare compliance standards, such as HIPAA, to protect patient information. The advanced sharing and security features of Customer Community Plus support adherence to these regulations.
