Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2025 Data Science Professional Sample

Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

As a data scientist, you are tasked with creating a model training job that is expected to take different hyperparameter values on every run. What is the most efficient way to set those parameters with Oracle Data Science Jobs?

- A. Create your code to expect different parameters either as environment variables or as command-line arguments, which are set on every job run with different values
- B. Create your code to expect different parameters as command-line arguments, and create a new job every time you run the code
- C. Create a new job every time you need to run your code and pass the parameters as environment variables
- D. Create a new job by setting the required parameters in your code, and create a new job for every code change

Answer: A

Explanation:

Detailed Answer in Step-by-Step Solution:

* Objective: Efficiently manage varying hyperparameters in OCI Data Science Jobs.

* Understand OCI Jobs: Jobs execute predefined tasks with configurable inputs (e.g., env vars, args).

* Evaluate Options:

* A: New job per run with env vars-Redundant job creation, inefficient.

* B: New job per run with args-Similarly inefficient due to repeated setup.

* C: Hardcode params, new job per change-Highly inefficient, requires code edits.

* D: Single job, flexible params via env vars or args-Efficient, reusable-correct.

* Reasoning: D minimizes job creation, allows runtime flexibility via configuration-best practice.

* Conclusion: D is correct.

OCI documentation states: "For Jobs with varying hyperparameters, write code to accept environment variables or command-line arguments (D), then configure these per Job Run using the OCI Console or SDK- most efficient approach." Options A, B, and C involve unnecessary job proliferation or code changes-only D aligns with OCI's design for parameterized runs.

Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Data Science Documentation, "Configuring Job Runs with Parameters".

NEW QUESTION # 30

Which Oracle Accelerated Data Science (ADS) classes can be used for easy access to datasets from reference libraries and index websites such as scikit-learn?

- A. SecretKeeper
- B. DataLabeling
- C. DatasetFactory
- D. DatasetBrowser

Answer: C

Explanation:

Detailed Answer in Step-by-Step Solution:

* Objective: Identify ADS class for dataset access (e.g., scikit-learn).

* Evaluate Options:

* A: DataLabeling-Not an ADS class.

* B: DatasetBrowser-Not real.

* C: SecretKeeper-Credentials, not data.

* D: DatasetFactory-Loads datasets (e.g., open())-correct.

* Reasoning: DatasetFactory simplifies library dataset access.

* Conclusion: D is correct.

OCI documentation states: "DatasetFactory (D) in ADS SDK accesses datasets from libraries like scikit-learn (e.g., DatasetFactory.open('sklearn.datasets:load_iris'))." A, B, and C don't exist or apply-only D fits.

Oracle Cloud Infrastructure ADS SDK Documentation, "DatasetFactory".

NEW QUESTION # 31

Which feature of Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Data Science provides an interactive coding environment for building and training machine learning models?

- A. Notebook Sessions
- B. Model Catalog
- C. Jobs
- D. Projects

Answer: A

Explanation:

Detailed Answer in Step-by-Step Solution:

* Objective: Identify the interactive coding environment in OCI Data Science.

* Evaluate Options:

* A: Model Catalog stores models-not for coding.

* B: Jobs run predefined tasks-not interactive.

* C: Notebook Sessions provide JupyterLab for coding and training-interactive.

* D: Projects organize work-not a coding environment.

* Reasoning: Notebook Sessions are OCI's Jupyter-based tool for interactive ML development.

* Conclusion: C is correct.

OCI Data Science Notebook Sessions "provide an interactive JupyterLab environment where data scientists can write code, explore data, and train machine learning models." Model Catalog (A) is for storage, Jobs (B) for automation, and Projects (D) for organization-only C offers interactivity.

Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Data Science Documentation, "Notebook Sessions Overview".

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which cache rules criterion matches if the concatenation of the requested URL path and query are identical to the contents of the value field?

- A. URL_PART_CONTAINS
- B. URL_PART_ENDS_WITH
- C. URL_IS
- D. URL_STARTS_WITH

Answer: C

Explanation:

Detailed Answer in Step-by-Step Solution:

* Objective: Match a cache rule criterion for exact URL path and query.

* Understand Cache Rules: Used in OCI (e.g., WAF, CDN) to cache content.

* Evaluate Options:

* A: Contains-Partial match, not exact.

* B: Is-Exact match of full URL (path + query)-correct.

* C: Ends with-Matches end, not full URL.

* D: Starts with-Matches start, not full URL.

* Reasoning: "URL_IS" checks exact equality-fits requirement.

* Conclusion: B is correct.

OCI documentation states: "The URL_IS (B) criterion in cache rules matches when the full URL (path and query) exactly equals the specified value." A, C, and D are partial matches-only B ensures identical concatenation per OCI's caching config.

Oracle Cloud Infrastructure WAF Documentation, "Cache Rules Criteria".

NEW QUESTION # 33

The feature type TechJob has the following registered validators:

* TechJob.validator.register(name='is_tech_job', handler=is_tech_job_default_handler)

* TechJob.validator.register(name='is_tech_job', handler=is_tech_job_open_handler, condition=('job_family',))

* TechJob.validator.register(name='is_tech_job', handler=is_tech_job_closed_handler, condition=('job_family': 'IT'))When you run is_tech_job(job_family='Engineering'), what does the feature type validator system do?

- A. Execute the is_tech_job_closed_handler handler
- B. Throw an error because the system cannot determine which handler to run

- C. Execute the `is_tech_job_default_handler` handler
- D. Execute the `is_tech_job_open_handler` handler

Answer: D

Explanation:

Detailed Answer in Step-by-Step Solution:

- * Objective: Determine which validator handler runs for `is_tech_job(job_family='Engineering')`.
- * Understand Validator System: Likely ADS SDK-executes handlers based on conditions.
- * Analyze Validators:
- * Default: `is_tech_job_default_handler`-No condition, fallback.
- * Open: `is_tech_job_open_handler`-Condition ('`job_family`',)-requires `job_family` arg.
- * Closed: `is_tech_job_closed_handler`-Condition ('`job_family`': '`IT`')-requires `job_family='IT'`.
- * Evaluate Call: `job_family='Engineering'`-Matches `job_family` presence, not `IT`.
- * Reasoning:
- * Open handler applies (tuple condition means arg exists).
- * Closed fails (`Engineering # IT`).
- * Default is overridden by specific matches.
- * Conclusion: D is correct.

OCI ADS documentation states: "Validators execute the most specific handler matching the condition; for `is_tech_job(job_family='Engineering')`, `is_tech_job_open_handler` (D) runs as it matches `job_family` presence, while `is_tech_job_closed_handler` (C) requires `IT`-default (A) is bypassed, no error (B)." Only D fits per ADS validator logic. Oracle Cloud Infrastructure ADS SDK Documentation, "Feature Type Validators".
