NEW QUESTION # 147

Universal Containers (UC) has an Application custom object, which has tens of millions of records created in the past 5 years. UC needs the last 5 years of data to exist in Salesforce at all times for reporting and queries. UC is currently encountering performance issues when reporting and running queries on this Object using date ranges as filters. Which two options can be used to improve report performance?

- A. Add custom indexes to all fields on Application without a standard index.
- B. Run multiple reports to get different pieces of the data and combine them
- C. Ask support to create a skinny table for Application with the necessary reporting fields.
- D. Add custom indexes to the Date fields used for filtering the report.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Ask support to create a skinny table for Application with the necessary reporting fields. This is an option that can improve report performance by creating a custom table that contains frequently used fields and copies their values from standard or custom objects. Skinny tables are kept in sync with their source tables and are used in place of them for reports and queries⁴. Add custom indexes to the Date fields used for filtering the report. This is another option that can improve report performance by creating custom indexes on fields that are often used as filters or join conditions in reports and queries. Custom indexes can speed up data retrieval and reduce query execution time

- B. Create an owner-based sharing rule.
- C. Add appropriate users to the account team.
- D. Create a criteria-based sharing rule.

Answer: A

Explanation:

This is also known as account-opportunity sharing³. Creating a criteria-based sharing rule (option A) or an owner-based sharing rule (option D) is not necessary, as they are used to grant additional access based on record criteria or ownership.
