CISI Investment Funds in Canada (IFC) Exam Sample Questions (Q109-Q114):

NEW QUESTION # 109

Which factors would cause the management expense ratio charged by a mutual fund to be higher?

- * The fund invests in foreign equities
- * The fund is large in size
- * The fund is managed by the fund sponsor's management team
- * The fund pays a trailer fee

- A. 3 and 4
- B. 1 and 2
- C. 2 and 3
- D. 1 and 4

Answer: D

Explanation:

Factors that increase a mutual fund's management expense ratio (MER) include investing in foreign equities and paying trailer fees, as these add to operational costs. The feedback from the document states:

"Four factors primarily affect the management expense ratio. Funds that invest in foreign equities; are small in size; are managed by an outside specialist firm; and charge trailer fees will have higher management expense ratios." NEW QUESTION # 110

Ian is 25, employed, and has no dependents. He has no current financial or family obligations. He has asked for your recommendation for investing a $50,000 inheritance. What asset allocation would typically suit an investor with Ian's characteristics?

- A. 35% in equity, 25% in a money market fund, 60% in a bond fund
- B. 10% in a bond fund, 80% in equity funds, 10% in a money market fund
- C. 10% in equity funds, 70% in a bond fund, 20% in a money market fund
- D. 50% in equity funds, 20% in a bond fund, and 30% in a money market fund

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Ian, as a Stage 1 - Early Earning Years investor, has no family or financial commitments, allowing for a higher risk tolerance. An asset allocation with a heavy equity weighting, such as 80% in equity funds, is suitable. The feedback from the document states: "Ian would be considered a Stage 1 - Early Earning Years investor. Stage 1 investors, in general, are free of family and financial commitments, and would typically have a higher ability to tolerate risk. Thus, with its higher level of risk and lower component of income-based investments, 10% in a bond fund, 80% in equity funds and 10% in a money market fund would be most likely to be suitable." NEW QUESTION # 111

Khuyen is a Dealing Representative for Stark Contrast Investments. Her dealer has relationships with 20 different mutual fund families. This gave her the flexibility to sell two different types of funds from two different fund families to her client, Bao. $5,000 was invested in the Blue Moon Global Balanced fund and an additional $5,000 was invested in the Orange Sun Asset Allocation fund. Khuyen has been reviewing the performance of both funds and has determined that Bao would be better off being fully invested in the Blue Moon Global Balance fund. Bao had previously signed a Limited Authorization Form (LAF) for Khuyen, so she goes ahead and does not worry about consulting with Bao before making the change.

What type of activity has Khuyen performed?

- A. Top-down management

- B. Churning
- C. Value investing
- D. Discretionary trading

Answer: D

Explanation:

Discretionary trading is a type of trading activity where the advisor makes investment decisions on behalf of the client without obtaining the client's prior consent for each transaction. Discretionary trading is only allowed if the client has signed a discretionary management agreement with the advisor and the advisor is registered as a portfolio manager. A limited authorization form (LAF) does not grant the advisor the authority to engage in discretionary trading. A LAF only allows the advisor to execute trades that are initiated by the client, such as pre-authorized contributions or withdrawals. Therefore, Khuyen has performed discretionary trading by switching Bao's funds without consulting him, which is a violation of her registrant responsibilities and ethical standards.

NEW QUESTION # 112

What criteria does the independent review committee use to determine if a potential conflict of interest, such as interfund trading, should be approved?

- A. Will the action require unitholder approval?
- B. Will the action contravene a unitholder's statutory rights?
- C. Will the action achieve a fair and reasonable result for the fund?
- D. Will the action contravene National Instrument 81-102?

Answer: C

Explanation:

The independent review committee approves actions involving conflicts of interest only if they achieve a fair and reasonable result for the fund. The feedback from the document states:

"The Independent Review Committee will only approve actions where a conflict of interest arises if certain requirements are met, including, most importantly, the action achieves a fair and reasonable result for the fund." NEW QUESTION # 113

What is a characteristic of joint investment accounts?

- A. They require the risk tolerance of all holders to be identical.
- B. They require at least one signature.
- C. They require an application for discretionary trading.
- D. They require a witness acknowledgement.

Answer: B
