NEW QUESTION # 21

How should a Development Team deal with non-functional requirements?

- A. Ensure every Increment meets them.
- B. Handle them during the Integration Sprint preceding the Release Sprint.
- C. Make sure the release department understands these requirements, but it is not the Development Team's responsibility.
- D. Assign them to the lead developers on the team.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 22

Why does the Product Owner want the Development Team to adhere to its definition of "Done"? (Choose the best answer.)

- A. To have complete transparency into what has been done at the end of each Sprint.
- B. To know what the team will deliver over the next three Sprints.
- C. To be able to reprimand the team when they don't meet their velocity goal for the Sprint.
- D. To predict the team's productivity over time.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 23

During Sprint Planning the Product Owner and the Developers are unable to reach an understanding about the highest order Product Backlog items. Because of this, the Developers are unable to determine how many Product Backlog items they can forecast for the upcoming Sprint. However, the Product Owner and the Developers are able to agree on a Sprint Goal.

Which of the following actions should the Scrum Master support?

(choose the best two answers)

- A. Ask everyone to take as much time as needed to analyze the Product Backlog first, and then reconvene another Sprint Planning meeting.
- B. During the next Sprint Retrospective discuss why this happened and what changes will make it less likely to recur.
- C. Continue the Sprint Planning event past its timebox until an adequate number of Product Backlog items are well enough understood for the Developers to make a complete forecast. Then start the Sprint.
- D. Forecast the Product Backlog items that are most likely to meet the Sprint Goal and create the Sprint Backlog. Conclude Sprint Planning and start the development work. Continue to analyze, decompose, and create additional functionality during the Sprint.

- E. Cancel the Sprint Send the entire team to an advanced Scrum training and then start a new Sprint

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

According to the Scrum Guide, two actions that the Scrum Master should support in this scenario are forecasting the Product Backlog items that are most likely to meet the Sprint Goal and creating the Sprint Backlog, and discussing why this happened and what changes will make it less likely to recur during the next Sprint Retrospective. These actions are consistent with Scrum values and principles, such as empiricism, adaptation, and continuous improvement. The other options are not valid actions, as they are either wasteful (such as canceling the Sprint or continuing the Sprint Planning past its timebox) or ineffective (such as asking everyone to take more time to analyze the Product Backlog).

NEW QUESTION # 24

Which three questions might be answered by Development Team members at the Daily Scrum? (Choose the best three answers.)

- A. Do I see any impediment that prevents me or the Development Team from meeting the Sprint Goal?
- B. What will I be working on tomorrow?
- C. How is the Sprint proceeding?
- D. Why were you late?
- E. What will I do today to help the Development Team meet the Sprint Goal?
- F. How many hours did I spend on the project yesterday?
- G. What did I do yesterday that helped the Development Team meet the Sprint Goal?

Answer: A,E,G

NEW QUESTION # 25

Who should make sure everyone on the scrum Team does their tasks for the sprint? (choose the best answer)

- A. The Scrum Team
- B. All of the above
- C. The Scrum Master
- D. The Product Owner
- E. The Project Manager

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the Scrum Guide, the Scrum Team should make sure that everyone on the team does their tasks for the Sprint, as they are collectively accountable for creating valuable Increments that meet stakeholder needs and expectations. The other options are not valid, as they imply that someone else outside the Scrum Team (such as a project manager) or another role on the Scrum Team (such as the Product Owner or the Scrum Master) is responsible for making sure that everyone does their tasks for the Sprint.
