PMI PMO Certified Professional 認定 PMO-CP 試験問題 (Q86-Q91):

質問 #86
During a PMO strategy meeting, the team discusses the importance of identifying and understanding its stakeholders. There is a debate on whether stakeholders are primarily impacted by the PMO's work, or whether their support and expectations should shape the PMO's approach. Why is it necessary to understand who the PMO stakeholders are?

- A. Because they will be influenced by the work the PMO does across the organization
- B. Because their expectations of benefits should guide the design and implementation of the PMO
- C. Because they are responsible for funding the costs of the PMO's operations
- D. Because their support is critical for the success and continuation of the PMO

正解：B

解説：
A . Because their expectations of benefits should guide the design and implementation of the PMO: This is the most comprehensive and accurate answer. Understanding stakeholder expectations is crucial for aligning the PMO's goals and activities with the organization's needs. It ensures the PMO delivers value and remains relevant.
B . Because their support is critical for the success and continuation of the PMO: While stakeholder support is important, it's a consequence of meeting their expectations, not the primary reason for understanding them.

C . Because they will be influenced by the work the PMO does across the organization: This is true, but it's more of an outcome than a reason for proactively identifying and understanding stakeholders.
D . Because they are responsible for funding the costs of the PMO's operations: Funding is a factor, but it's not the core reason for stakeholder analysis. Stakeholders can be impacted without directly funding the PMO.

質問 ＃ 87

During a strategic planning session, the PMO leadership team is evaluating the criteria that define the maturity of their PMO. They discuss whether maturity should be based on the PMO's positioning within the organization, the sophistication of the functions it performs, or the strategic competence of its team members. As they continue their discussion, they seek clarity on the key factor that best defines PMO maturity. What defines PMO maturity?

- A. The level of sophistication with which each PMO function is performed, including how effectively the PMO manages projects, programs, and portfolios
- B. The more strategic the PMO, the more mature it will be, assuming that strategic focus alone determines overall maturity
- C. The level of strategic competence within the PMO team, focusing on their ability to make high-level, value-driven decisions aligned with business goals
- D. The hierarchical positioning of the PMO within the organizational structure, as it reflects the influence and authority the PMO holds

正解： A

解説：
PMO maturity is defined by the sophistication of its functions and how effectively it manages projects, programs, and portfolios. Maturity involves refining processes, increasing efficiency, and improving value delivery, rather than solely focusing on strategic positioning or team competencies.

質問 ＃ 88

What is the recommended PMO VALUE RING evaluation cycle?

- A. Every 5 years.
- B. 12-month cycles, starting on its set up or first evaluation.
- C. There is no recommended cycle.
- D. Only once, when the PMO is being set up.

正解： B

The PMO VALUE RING methodology, developed by the PMO Global Alliance, provides a structured approach to ensure the continuous improvement and alignment of PMOs with organizational needs. The recommended evaluation cycle for the PMO VALUE RING is12 months, starting either from the PMO's initial setup or its first evaluation.
* Continuous Improvement: The 12-month evaluation cycle is crucial because it allows PMOs to adapt to changes in the organization, market, and project environment. By evaluating annually, PMOs can identify gaps, realign with strategic goals, and implement necessary improvements.
* Performance Monitoring: An annual review helps monitor the PMO's performance, assessing whether the expected value delivery aligns with stakeholder expectations. This cycle ensures that the PMO remains relevant and effective over time.
* Flexibility: Although 12 months is the recommended cycle, the PMO VALUE RING methodology is flexible enough to allow for adjustments based on specific organizational needs. However, the 12- month cycle is a best practice for maintaining the PMO's strategic alignment.
PMI and PMO VALUE RING References:
* ThePMI's Standard for Portfolio ManagementandPMI's PMBOK Guideemphasize the importance of continuous monitoring and evaluation in project, program, and portfolio management. Regular cycles ensure that the PMO is effectively contributing to the organization's strategy.
* ThePMO VALUE RINGprovides a clear framework for PMOs to follow, ensuring that value is consistently delivered. The 12-month cycle recommendation aligns with the principle of continuous improvement advocated by PMI.
By adhering to the 12-month evaluation cycle, PMOs can ensure they are always aligned with the organization's evolving needs, thus maximizing their value contribution.

Follow-Up Questions:

* How can a PMO integrate lessons learned from the 12-month PMO VALUE RING evaluation into its strategic planning process?
* What are some potential risks of not following the recommended 12-month evaluation cycle for a PMO?
* How can the PMO VALUE RING methodology be adapted to suit smaller organizations with limited resources?

質問 # 89

During a PMO competency development planning session, the team discusses how the competencies required for each PMO function may vary in importance. Some competencies may be critical for a strategic function, while others are more relevant for operational or tactical functions. What is the correct approach regarding the relevance of competencies in different PMO functions?

* A. All competencies required for the PMO are equally important, regardless of the function the professional is performing
* B. The relevance of competencies does not depend on the PMO function, as technical competencies are always more important than behavioral competencies
* C. The same competency can have different levels of relevance depending on the PMO function, whether strategic, tactical, or operational
* D. Strategic competencies are more important for all PMO functions, while operational and tactical competencies are of little relevance

正解：C

解説：

Competency relevance varies by function type. For example, strategic roles may prioritize leadership and analytical skills, while operational roles focus on execution and technical proficiency. Tailoring competencies to function requirements ensures that the PMO operates effectively at all levels.

質問 # 90

Two PMO professionals were allocated to execute a specific function. The allocated professionals have, respectively, Personal Competency Adherence Indicators (p-CAI) of 75% and 65% for this function. It's observed that the Competency Adherence Indicator of the Function (f-CAI) is 85%. We could say that:

* A. The f-CAI is calculated according to the goal established by the PMO stakeholders.
* B. The f-CAI calculation was done incorrectly and the correct result would be 70%.
* C. The f-CAI is calculated considering the best performance (p-CAI) among the members of the PMO allocated in the function, justifying the f-CAI equal to 85%.
* D. The calculation was done correctly, but there is not enough information available to justify the f-CAI equal to 85%.

正解：D

解説：

The Competency Adherence Indicator of the Function (f-CAI) reflects the alignment of the allocated professionals' competencies with the requirements of the function. In this scenario, while the individual Personal Competency Adherence Indicators (p-CAI) are 75% and 65%, the f-CAI is reported as 85%. This suggests that the calculation was performed correctly, but there may be additional factors or data influencing the f-CAI that are not provided in the question.

f-CAI Calculation: The f-CAI is typically calculated by assessing the collective competencies of all professionals involved in the function and comparing them to the required competencies for that function. The result is an overall indicator of how well the function's competency requirements are met by the assigned team.

Lack of Complete Information: With the given data, we know the individual p-CAIs, but the calculation leading to an f-CAI of 85% could involve other factors such as weighting of competencies, different roles within the function, or additional inputs that have not been disclosed.

PMI Reference: According to PMI's standards on resource management and competency frameworks, accurate competency assessment is crucial for effective function execution. The PMO VALUE RING methodology supports this by providing a structured approach to competency alignment.

PMI and PMO VALUE RING Reference:
The PMO VALUE RING includes mechanisms for assessing and aligning competencies with function requirements. However, it requires a full set of data and contextual understanding to accurately interpret f-CAI values, which might not be fully covered by the provided information.
