Another version of GitHub Foundations (GH-900) practice exams is also available at CertkingdomPDF and that is web-based. It has all specifications we have discussed above in the section of the Microsoft GH-900 desktop practice test software. But the only difference is that this web-based GH-900 practice exam software works online and needs no software installation. Furthermore, this GH-900 Practice Exam is supported by both Windows and iOS, Android, Mac, and Linux. Since it is the web-based GH-900 practice exam, you can take it from Opera, Chrome, Safari, Firefox, or any other popular browser.

Microsoft GitHub Foundations Sample Questions (Q70-Q75):

NEW QUESTION # 70

How can a user highlight a post to the top of the Discussions page?

- A. Save the discussion.
- B. Star the discussion.
- C. Pin the discussion.
- D. Create an issue from the discussion.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To highlight a post at the top of the Discussions page on GitHub, you can Pin the discussion.

Pinning a discussion ensures it remains prominently visible at the top of the list, making it easier for others to find and participate in that discussion. This is particularly useful for important announcements or frequently referenced topics.

NEW QUESTION # 71

Which of the following is a primary goal of GitHub ' s community?

- A. Facilitating collaboration and creativity
- B. Enforcing strict code quality standards
- C. Creating a competitive environment for developers
- D. Exclusively supporting experienced developers

Answer: A

Explanation:

GitHub ' s community is centered around enabling developers to collaborate and innovate together. The platform provides tools and environments that foster open communication, sharing of ideas, and collective problem-solving.

* Facilitating Collaboration and Creativity:

* Option C is correct because GitHub is designed to be a collaborative platform where developers can work together on projects, share code, and contribute to open source initiatives, all in an environment that encourages creativity.

* Incorrect Options:

* Option A is incorrect because GitHub is inclusive of developers of all skill levels, not just experienced ones.

* Option B is incorrect because GitHub is not about creating a competitive environment; rather, it focuses on collaboration.

* Option D is incorrect because while code quality is important, enforcing strict code quality standards is not the primary goal of the GitHub community.

NEW QUESTION # 72

What is GitHub?

- A. A cloud-based hosting service for version control and collaboration, focused on creating a safe and collaborative environment for developers
- B. A proprietary software platform for nurturing creativity in developers and building a technology community
- C. A platform that focuses on facilitating the growth and sharing of code, specifically designed for new developers to hone their skills
- D. A centralized version control system designed for nurturing a community of developers and providing access to open source projects

Answer: A

Explanation:

GitHub is a cloud-based platform that provides hosting for software development and version control using Git. It offers tools for collaboration, project management, and security to create a safe and productive environment for developers.

GitHub Overview:

Option B is correct because GitHub is primarily known as a cloud-based hosting service for Git repositories, offering a collaborative environment where developers can work together on projects, manage version control, and implement security practices.

NEW QUESTION # 73

A distributed version control system is best described as a system that:

- A. Requires developers to manually track and manage different versions of their files using naming conventions and manual backups.
- B. Relies on a central server to store the entire project history and allows developers to check out files for editing.
- C. Ensures each developer has their own local copy of the entire code repository, including the complete project history and metadata.
- D. Stores project files on a cloud-based server and allows multiple developers to collaborate on the same codebase simultaneously.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A distributed version control system (DVCS) like Git is best described as a system that ensures each developer has their own local copy of the entire code repository, including the complete project history and metadata. This decentralized approach allows developers to work independently, with full access to the project's history and files, and later synchronize their changes with others. Unlike centralized systems, DVCS does not rely on a single central server, which provides greater flexibility and robustness in collaboration.

NEW QUESTION # 74

Which of the following can be performed within GitHub Desktop?

- A. Reviewing and approving pull requests
- B. Commenting on discussions
- C. Integrating with office suite software
- D. Creating and managing issues
- E. Adding and cloning repositories

Answer: E

Explanation:

GitHub Desktop is a graphical interface that allows users to interact with GitHub repositories. It simplifies certain Git operations without the need for command-line usage.

* GitHub Desktop Capabilities:

* Option C is correct because GitHub Desktop allows users to add local repositories to their GitHub account, clone repositories from GitHub to their local machine, and manage repositories effectively.

* Incorrect Options:

* Option A is incorrect because GitHub Desktop does not support creating or managing issues directly; this is done through the GitHub web interface.

* Option B is incorrect because reviewing and approving pull requests is also managed through the GitHub web interface.

* Option D is incorrect because commenting on discussions is done on the GitHub platform, not through GitHub Desktop.

* Option E is incorrect because GitHub Desktop does not integrate with office suite software.
