ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering. Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q130-Q135):

NEW QUESTION # 130

To get maximum value from validation activities, which practices should be followed? (Select 2 answers.)

- A. Ensure identification and correction of defects are done by different workers.
- B. Ensure independence between those eliciting and those validating requirements.
- C. Choose a single ideal milestone to perform all validation activities.
- D. Identify the most important view and perform validation only from it.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Good validation practice includes separating responsibilities: reviewers focus on detecting defects, while others propose and implement corrections, reducing bias and conflicts of interest-supporting A.

Independence between elicitation and validation roles increases objectivity and helps expose assumptions missed during elicitation, so C is also recommended. Validation should incorporate multiple views (business, technical, test, operations), not just one, making B incorrect. Validation is not a one-off event; it should be repeated at successive milestones as requirements evolve, so D conflicts with guidance. Therefore A and C are the correct practices.

NEW QUESTION # 131

You are employed as a requirements engineer in a company in the logistics sector and are involved in a project that aims to replace a legacy application for distribution and shipment of goods with a new system. A colleague has already created a context diagram.

You are assigned to check this. What are your thoughts about this? Indicate for each statement whether it is true or false. (3 Points)

True	False
A	B	The problem assignment of the system cannot be derived from the diagram.
C	D	The relationship between truck and truck driver is not necessary.
E	F	The actor with the designation "???" and the data flow "Goods???" should be omitted, because there is not enough information about them and there are too many ambiguities.
G	H	The relationship between loading crane and the system is not specified in sufficient detail.

Answer:

Explanation:

A, C, F, G

NEW QUESTION # 132

Choose the right sentence regarding requirements documents.

- A. There is a universal structure that all requirements documents should follow.
- B. A requirements document must also contain additional information and explanations.
- C. The product backlog is an explicit requirements document.
- D. All the other options are wrong.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

There is no single universal template for requirements documents; structures must be tailored to domain, process model and contractual needs, contradicting A.

In agile, a product backlog is a prioritized list of work items, not a traditional explicit requirements specification, though it does contain requirement-like entries, so B is inaccurate. While many specs include additional project and explanatory information, this is not mandatory, so C overstates. Consequently, the only generally correct answer is that the other statements are wrong.

NEW QUESTION # 133

All of the following are considered to be principles of Requirements Engineering, EXCEPT:

- A. Requirements Engineering is about satisfying the stakeholders' needs.
- B. It is impossible to successfully develop a system without a common basis of understanding.
- C. Systems cannot be understood under an isolated point of view.
- D. Requirements should be viewed as the end in itself, not as a means to an end.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 134

Complete the gap:

"_____ conflicts arise from differences in the fundamental principles of the stakeholders involved. They are more personal and tied to broad, long-term perspectives."

- A. Value
- B. Interest
- C. Relationship
- D. Structural

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The conflict typology in CPRE distinguishes data, interest, value, relationship and structural conflicts. Value conflicts occur when stakeholders' underlying beliefs, ethics or world-views clash-for example, safety vs. profit or privacy vs. data exploitation. These conflicts are deeply rooted, personal and stable over time, so they are hard to resolve by negotiation alone. Relationship conflicts stem from personal animosities or communication problems; interest conflicts concern competing goals; structural conflicts result from power or resource imbalances. Thus, "value" correctly completes the statement.
