NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Create a new security policy and add an output menu item. Add the new security policy to duty extension and then to a role extension.
- B. Create a new privilege, add a reference to an output menu item, and then add the new privilege to a role.

- D. Create a new privilege extension and add an output menu item. Add the privilege to a duty extension and then to a role extension.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Scenario: Develop necessary security permissions to view and maintain the new Vendor exclusion list functionality and reporting.

Users with maintain rights will be able create, update, and delete the exclusion list.

Permissions must be assigned to security roles to match company security model.

The privileges are simply a way to grant permissions to an entry point, which can be services, to a duty, role, or even directly to a user. Typically, we only add entry points to a privilege, such as menu items.

D: You can extend a Security Role or a Security Duty to add new duties/privileges to these elements.
