Peoplecert MSP Practitioner, 5th edition Exam Sample Questions (Q88-Q93):

NEW QUESTION # 88

Which of below statements are false?

- A. Benefits management qualifies Blueprint
- B. Benefits management identify risks
- C. End of tranche review drives benefits management
- D. Benefits management identifies dependency in plans

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 89

Which of following is False?

- A. Instead of having individual stakeholders, it is better to divide them in suitable categories
- B. Stakeholder profiles identifies and lists each stakeholder properties
- C. Stakeholders can change during the lifecycle of programme
- D. Stakeholder profiles are created under stakeholder maps

Answer: D

Explanation:

The false statement is that "Stakeholder profiles are created under stakeholder maps." In fact, MSP treats the Stakeholder Map as a component or output of Stakeholder Profiling.

The MSP Practitioner explains: "Stakeholder map is created as part of stakeholder profile," meaning the profile contains detailed information about individual stakeholders, their attributes, influence, and interests, while the map visually represents stakeholder relationships and influence patterns.

This distinction is important for effective stakeholder analysis and engagement planning, ensuring both granular detail and strategic overview are captured.

NEW QUESTION # 90

Which of following is not responsibility of Programme Office?

- A. Repository of programme information
- B. Providing regular updates on progress to SRO
- C. Risk and Issue tracking
- D. Ensuring the control and management frameworks are effectively implemented

Answer: B

Explanation:

Providing regular progress updates to the Senior Responsible Owner (SRO) is the responsibility of the Programme Manager, not the Programme Office. The Programme Office supports by maintaining information repositories, tracking risks and issues, and ensuring control frameworks are implemented. The MSP Practitioner clarifies: "Programme manager provides regular updates to SRO," distinguishing the oversight and reporting role of the Programme Manager from the administrative and support role of the Programme Office.

NEW QUESTION # 91

For a business transformation programme, which of scenarios will lead to high probability of success?

- A. New products or services
- B. Internal, external and customer behavior
- C. Process change affecting technology and structures
- D. Changing historical work practices

Answer: C

Explanation:

The probability of success is higher when programme requirements are well-defined and clearly understood.

MSP Practitioner states: "Probability is high when requirements are well defined and clearly understood.

Clear specifications of output increases the probability of success." Process changes affecting technology and structures typically have clearer specifications and boundaries, making successful delivery more likely compared to changes driven by complex behaviors or historical practices.
