Snowflake Certified SnowPro Associate - Platform Certification Sample Questions (Q100-Q105):

NEW QUESTION # 100

What is a "provider" in the context of the Snowflake Marketplace or Data Exchange?

- A. A user who manages Snowflake infrastructure
- B. A user who is a Snowflake employee
- C. A user or organization that shares data products or data listings
- D. A user who only consumes data

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Snowflake Marketplace and Data Exchange, a provider is any Snowflake user or organization that publishes and shares datasets, data products, or applications with other Snowflake consumers. Providers control access to their listings, configure data sharing models, and can offer either free or paid data products. They manage listing descriptions, update schedules, and refresh logic, ensuring customers or subscribers receive up-to-date and reliable information. Providers can be enterprises, analytics vendors, public data contributors, or research institutions. They are distinct from consumers, who access or use the shared data. Providers also do not handle Snowflake platform infrastructure—that is Snowflake's responsibility. Snowflake employees are not categorized as providers unless they publish official Snowflake datasets. Thus, the primary purpose of a provider is to share curated data offerings on the Marketplace or within private exchanges.

NEW QUESTION # 101

A data engineer needs to load data into a Snowflake table 'SALES DATA'. They want to grant a specific role, 'LOADER ROLE', the minimum necessary privileges to load data from an internal stage named 'RAW DATA STAGE' into the 'SALES DATA' table, which resides in the 'SALES SCHEMA' schema of the 'ANALYTICS DB' database. Which set of SQL commands achieves this with the principle of least privilege?

GRANT USAGE ON DATABASE ANALYTICS_DB TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON SCHEMA ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT INSERT ON TABLE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.SALES_DATA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT READ ON STAGE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.RAW_DATA_STAGE TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT EXECUTE TASK ON ACCOUNT TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE;
```
- B.

GRANT USAGE ON DATABASE ANALYTICS_DB TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON SCHEMA ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT INSERT ON TABLE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.SALES_DATA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT READ, WRITE ON STAGE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.RAW_DATA_STAGE TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE;
```
- C.

GRANT USAGE ON DATABASE ANALYTICS_DB TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON SCHEMA ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT INSERT ON TABLE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.SALES_DATA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT READ ON STAGE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.RAW_DATA_STAGE TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE;
```
- D.

GRANT USAGE ON DATABASE ANALYTICS_DB TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON SCHEMA ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT INSERT, SELECT ON TABLE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.SALES_DATA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT READ ON STAGE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.RAW_DATA_STAGE TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE;
```
- E.

GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON DATABASE ANALYTICS_DB TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON SCHEMA ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON TABLE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.SALES_DATA TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE; GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON STAGE ANALYTICS_DB.SALES_SCHEMA.RAW_DATA_STAGE TO ROLE LOADER_ROLE;
```

Answer: C

Explanation:

Option C provides the minimum required privileges. 'USAGE' on the database and schema allows the role to access objects within them. 'INSERT' on the table allows data loading. 'READ' on the stage allows reading files from the stage. 'SELECT' is not required for loading data. 'WRITE' on the stage is not needed as the role only needs to read. 'EXECUTE TASK' is for tasks not data loading.

NEW QUESTION # 102

Which command is synonymous with the LIST command in Snowflake?

- A. LS
- B. LIS
- C. DESC
- D. SHOW

Answer: A

Explanation:

Snowflake allows users to list files in a stage using the LIST command, and it provides a shorthand alias: LS.

Both commands return identical results, including file name, size, last modified timestamp, and other metadata stored in the stage.

This is relevant for internal stages (user, table, named stages) and external stages backed by cloud storage. SHOW and DESC are unrelated commands-SHOW lists Snowflake metadata objects such as tables, schemas, or roles, while DESC describes object structures. "LIS" is not a Snowflake command. Therefore, LS is the exact shorthand synonym for LIST and is used identically in queries.

NEW QUESTION # 103

You are tasked with loading data from an external stage containing gzipped CSV files into a Snowflake table. The CSV files have a header row that you want to skip during the load process.

Additionally, you need to transform the data during the load, specifically concatenating two columns (FIRST NAME and LAST NAME) into a new column called FULL NAME. Which combination of the following COPY INTO options will accomplish this task? Choose all that apply.

- A. TRANSFORM AS SELECT $1, $2, $3 || $4 FROM @mystage/data.csv
- B. FILE_FORMAT = (TYPE = CSV, SKIP_HEADER = 1, COMPRESSION = 'GZIP')
- C. ON_ERROR = 'SKIP FILE'
- D. TRANSFORM = (FULL_NAME = FIRST_NAME || ' ' || LAST_NAME)
- E. FILE_FORMAT = (TYPE = CSV, SKIP_HEADER = 1, COMPRESSION = 'GZIP'), TRANSFORM AS SELECT $1, $2, $3 || $4 FROM @mystage/data.csv

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Option A sets the FILE_FORMAT correctly specifying the file type as CSV, skipping the header row (SKIP_HEADER = 1), and specifying the compression type as GZIP. Option D correctly transforms the data by selecting all columns and concatenating the columns. This option assumes the file format is already defined in the COPY INTO statement. The @mystage/data.csv after FROM should only include name of the stage name and not the filename. However, that is not part of copy options but part of FROM Statement. The TRANSFORMS parameters that are part of copy options are deprecated.

NEW QUESTION # 104

What is a key characteristic of a Snowflake virtual warehouse?

- A. It provides compute resources.
- B. It manages account roles.
- C. It permanently stores data.
- D. It encrypts data.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A virtual warehouse is the compute engine of Snowflake. It provides CPU, memory, and temporary storage needed to execute SQL queries, data loading operations, and DML actions. Warehouses can be sized dynamically and suspended or resumed to optimize cost.

Warehouses don't store data; Snowflake's storage is independent and centralized. Warehouses do not manage roles-access control is handled through Snowflake's RBAC system. Encryption is performed automatically by Snowflake's storage and cloud services, not by warehouses.

Thus, the correct characteristic is that virtual warehouses supply compute.
