Salesforce Certified Advanced Administrator Sample Questions (Q53-Q58):

NEW QUESTION # 53

An administrator wants to determine if brute-force password attacks are being used against the org. A brute-force attack is when multiple password combinations are attempted in a short time period.

Where should the administrator look for more information?

- A. Connected Apps OAuth Usage
- B. Event Manager
- C. User Field History Tracking
- D. Login Forensics

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

Login Forensics is a Salesforce feature that allows you to monitor and analyze login behavior and trends in your org. It can help you identify and prevent brute-force password attacks by showing you the number of login attempts, successes, and failures per user, location, and device. You can also set up alerts to notify you when a user exceeds a certain number of login failures or when a login originates from an unusual location or device. NEW QUESTION # 56

DreamHouse Realty wants better insights into potential revenue in the next quarter and is considering using Collaborative Forecasts. What should the administrator consider when setting up Collaborative Forecasts?

- A. The default forecast categories cannot be customized.
- B. A single org can have up to six different types of forecasts.
- C. Opportunity Split data cannot be viewed in a forecast.
- D. A forecast can be either revenue-based or quantity-based.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A forecast is a projection of how much revenue or quantity you can generate from your sales pipeline for a given period of time. A forecast can be either revenue-based or quantity-based, depending on what you want to measure and track. A revenue-based forecast shows the amount of money expected from closed sales, while a quantity-based forecast shows the number of units expected from closed sales. You can choose the forecast type that best suits your business needs and goals when you set up Collaborative Forecasts in Salesforce.
