Salesforce Platform Developer I (PDI) Sample Questions (Q177-Q182):

NEW QUESTION # 177

Which two strategies should a developer use to avoid hitting governor limits when developing in a multi-tenant environment? (Choose two.)

- A. Use variables within Apex classes to store large amounts of data.
- B. Use methods from the "Limits" class to monitor governor limits.
- C. Use collections to store all fields from a related object and not just minimally required fields.
- D. Use SOQL for loops to iterate data retrieved from queries that return a high number of rows.

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 178

A developer wants to get access to the standard price book in the org while writing a test class that covers an OpportunityLineItem trigger.

Which method allows access to the price book?

- A. Use @Testvisible to allow the test method to see the standard price book.
- B. Use Test.loadData () and a static resource to load a standard price book.
- C. Use Test.getStandardPricebookId() to get the standard price book ID.
- D. Use @isTest [SeeAllData=true] and delete the existing standard price book.

Answer: C

Explanation:

- * When writing test classes, accessing the Standard Price Book is essential for creating OpportunityLineItem records.
- * The method Test.getStandardPricebookId() is specifically designed to retrieve the Standard Price Book ID in a test class context. This ensures you can work with the price book without requiring @isTest (SeeAllData=true).

Why not other options?

- * B: @isTest(SeeAllData=true) is not recommended because it violates Salesforce best practices by accessing actual org data.
- * C: @TestVisible is used for visibility between classes but does not relate to retrieving Standard Price Book.
- * D: Test.loadData() loads test data from static resources but is unnecessary for accessing the Standard Price Book.

NEW QUESTION # 179

What does the Lightning Component framework provide to developers?

- A. Templates to create custom components
- B. Prebuilt components that can be reused
- C. Support for Classic and Lightning UIs
- D. Extended governor limits for applications

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Lightning Component framework provides:

Option A: Prebuilt components that can be reused

The framework includes a library of base components that developers can use to build custom components and applications. These components can be reused and combined to create complex UIs.

Reference:

"The Lightning Component framework provides a set of prebuilt components that you can use to build your own components and applications."

- Lightning Components Developer Guide

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

Option B:

The Lightning Component framework is primarily for Lightning Experience and Salesforce mobile app, not for Classic UI.

Option C:

It does not provide extended governor limits; governor limits remain the same.

Option D:

While you can create custom components, the framework does not provide templates in the way described.

NEW QUESTION # 180

Universal Container* decides to use purely declarative development to build out a new Salesforce application.

Which two options can be used to build out the business logic layer for this application?

Choose 2 answer

- A. Batch Jobs
- B. Validation Rules
- C. Record- Triggered flow
- D. Remote Actions

Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION # 181

A developer writes a trigger on the Account object on the before update event that increments a count field. A record triggered flow also increments the count field every time that an Account is created or updated.

What is the value of the count field if an Account is inserted with an initial value of zero, assuming no other automation logic is implemented on the Account?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

Explanation:

* When an Account record is created, the following happens:

* Before insert trigger increments the count field once.

* After insert record-triggered flow executes and increments the count again.

* When the record is subsequently updated:

* Before update trigger increments the count again.

* After update record-triggered flow increments it once more.

Thus, the final value of the count field = 4.
