NEW QUESTION # 19

In a project to develop an online booking system, the team decided to strengthen collaborative work between the business analyst and the testers working on the project. Several concrete joint activities have been identified.

- A. Development of acceptance criteria for user stories
- B. Review of risk to prioritize acceptance test
- C. Business needs assessment
- D. Definition of Beta Testing sessions

Answer: A

Explanation:

Collaboration between business analysts and testers is critical in Agile and acceptance testing environments.

One of the most effective areas of cooperation is the joint development and review of acceptance criteria for user stories. This ensures that criteria are testable, clearly defined, and aligned with stakeholder expectations.

Option B is correct because creating acceptance criteria is where both business analysts (who understand the business needs) and testers (who ensure testability and clarity) contribute effectively.

Other options:

A (Business needs assessment) is typically a responsibility of business analysts, not a joint activity with testers.

C (Review of risk to prioritize acceptance tests) is a valuable activity but comes after criteria are defined.

While it can be collaborative, it's more specific to test planning.

D (Definition of Beta Testing sessions) is less relevant to ongoing collaborative work between testers and BAs - this involves users and release planning.
