Salesforce Certified Administrator Sample Questions (Q111-Q116):

NEW QUESTION # 111

At Universal Containers, there is a custom field on the Lead named Product_Category_c. Management would like this information to be part of the opportunity upon lead conversion.

What action should the administrator take to satisfy the request?

- A. Create a custom field on the Opportunity and map the two fields.
- B. Configure the product categories picklist field on the product.
- C. Map the lead custom field to the product's product category field.
- D. Create a workflow to update opportunity fields based on the lead.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 112

Which of the following are not standard objects?

- A. Opportunities
- B. Campaigns
- C. Accounts
- D. Solutions
- E. Job Applicants

Answer: E

NEW QUESTION # 113

Universal Containers has a private sharing model for Opportunities and uses Opportunity teams. Criteria-based sharing rules a sales rep at Universal Containers leaves the company and their user record is deactivated.

The rep is later rehired in V administrator activates the old user record. The user is added to the same default Opportunity teams but is no longer able to access records the user worked on before leaving the company.

What is the likely cause?

- A. The stage of the Opportunity records was changed to closed lost.
- B. Permission sets were removed when the user was deactivated.
- C. The record type of the Opportunity records was changed.
- D. The records were manually shared with the user.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The likely cause for why a rehired user is no longer able to access records they worked on before leaving the company is that the records were manually shared with the user. Manual sharing allows granting access to individual records to specific users or groups. However, manual sharing is removed when a record owner changes or when a user's role changes. When a user is deactivated, their role is removed and any manual sharing involving that user is deleted. When a user is reactivated, their role is restored but manual sharing is not. Therefore, the rehired user will not have access to records that were manually shared with them before deactivation.

The stage of Opportunity records, permission sets, or record type of Opportunity records are not likely causes for why a reired user is no longer able to access records they worked on before leaving the company. References: https://help.salesforce.com/s/articleView?id=sf.sharing_manual.htm&type=5

How does a Profile differ from a Role?

- A. Profile controls what a user can do (read, create, edit, delete) with records

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 115

Marketing users at Cloud Kicks have been completing the Lead Source field inconsistently, with values like Web, Website, and Online. To ensure data quality, a Platform Administrator needs to standardize these records. Which Flow should the administrator use to clean up these inconsistent Lead Source values?

- A. Screen flow
- B. Schedule-triggered flow
- C. Segment triggered flow
- D. Record triggered flow

Answer: B

Explanation:

When an administrator needs to perform a "cleanup" of existing data in bulk, a Schedule-triggered flow is the most efficient choice. This type of flow can be configured to run once (or on a recurring schedule) and process all Lead records that meet the "inconsistent" criteria (e.g., Lead Source equals 'Website' or 'Online')

46. The flow can then automatically update those records to the standard "Web" value. A Record-triggered flow (Option B) only works on records as they are being created or updated, so it would not fix historical data unless every record was manually touched. Screen flows (Option D) require manual user interaction for each record. 53 Segment-triggered flows (Option A) are used in Data Cloud marketing conte54xts rather than standard core record cleanup.
