F5 BIG-IP Administration Data Plane Configuration Sample Questions (Q42-Q47):

NEW QUESTION # 42

Refer to the exhibit.

A BIG-IP Administrator needs to configure health monitors for a newly configured server pool named Pool_B.

Which health monitor settings will ensure that all pool members will be accurately marked as available or unavailable? (Choose one answer)

- A. HTTPS, HTTP, FTP, and SSH with the Availability Requirement of all health monitors
- B. HTTP, HTTPS, FTP, and ICMP with the Availability Requirement of at least one health monitor
- C. HTTPS, HTTP, FTP, and SSH with the Availability Requirement of all health monitors
- D. HTTPS, HTTP, FTP, and SSH with the Availability Requirement of at least one health monitor

Answer: D

Explanation:

From the exhibit, the pool contains different applications on different service ports (for example, HTTP/80, FTP/21, HTTPS/443, SSH/22). To mark pool members correctly, BIG-IP must be able to verify the actual service running on each member's port.

In BIG-IP Administration: Data Plane Configuration, monitor behavior is described as follows:

- * When multiple monitors are assigned to a pool, the Availability Requirement controls how monitor results are evaluated:
- * At least one = the pool member is marked up if any one of the assigned monitors succeeds.
- * All = the pool member is marked up only if every assigned monitor succeeds.
- * For pools containing members with different services/ports, using All can incorrectly mark members down because monitors intended for other services will fail on the wrong port.

Why C is correct:

- * Assigning HTTPS, HTTP, FTP, and SSH covers the actual services shown in the pool.
- * Setting the Availability Requirement to at least one ensures that each pool member is considered available when its appropriate service monitor succeeds, without being forced to pass unrelated service monitors.

Why the other options are incorrect:

- * A / D (Availability Requirement = all): would cause members to be marked down when unrelated monitors fail (e.g., SSH monitor against an HTTP member).
- * B (includes ICMP): ICMP can indicate the host is reachable even if the application service is down, which does not "accurately" reflect service availability.

Therefore, the best choice is HTTPS, HTTP, FTP, and SSH with Availability Requirement of at least one health monitor.

NEW QUESTION # 43

A node is a member of multiple pools and hosts different applications. If one application becomes unavailable, only that pool member should be marked down.

What should the BIG-IP Administrator deploy?

- A. UDP monitor
- B. TCP monitor
- C. ICMP + TCP monitor
- D. HTTP monitor with custom send/receive

Answer: D

Explanation:

Application-level monitors ensure that only the affected service is marked down, not the entire node.

NEW QUESTION # 44

Due to a change in application requirements, a BIG-IP Administrator needs to modify the configuration of a Virtual Server to include a Fallback Persistence Profile.

Which persistence profile type should the BIG-IP Administrator use?

- A. Universal
- B. Source Address Affinity
- C. SSL
- D. Hash

Answer: B

Explanation:

Fallback persistence is used when the primary persistence method fails. Source Address Affinity is a Layer 4 persistence method and is fully supported as a fallback option for most virtual server types.

NEW QUESTION # 45

Some users who connect to a busy Virtual Server have connections reset by the BIG-IP system. Pool member resources are NOT a factor.

What is a possible cause?

- A. Rewrite profile not configured
- B. Server SSL profile not reconfigured
- C. Connection Limit is set too low
- D. Connection Rate Limit is set too high

Answer: C

Explanation:

When the connection limit is reached, BIG-IP resets new connections, even if pool members are healthy.

NEW QUESTION # 46

A BIG-IP Administrator configures an SSH pool with five members.

Which health monitor should be applied?

- A. TCP
- B. HTTP
- C. UDP
- D. HTTPS

Answer: A

Explanation:

SSH is a TCP-based service. A TCP monitor validates service availability without requiring application-layer inspection.
