CompTIA Data+ Exam (2025) Sample Questions (Q63-Q68):

NEW QUESTION # 63

Which of the following pieces of information, if made public, results in a data privacy violation?

- A. Gender
- B. Age
- C. Driver's license
- D. Employment status

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Governance domain, which in DA0-002 includes understanding data privacy and compliance with regulations like GDPR. The question asks which piece of information, if made public, constitutes a privacy violation, meaning it must be personally identifiable information (PII).

* Gender (Option A): Gender is not typically considered PII on its own, as it's not uniquely identifiable.

* Driver's license (Option B): A driver's license number is PII because it uniquely identifies an individual and can be linked to other personal information, such as name and address. Making it public violates privacy regulations.

* Age (Option C): Age alone isn't PII, as it's not uniquely identifiable.

* Employment status (Option D): Employment status (e.g., employed, unemployed) isn't PII, as it doesn't uniquely identify an individual.

The DA0-002 Data Governance domain includes "identifying PII and data privacy concepts," and a driver's license is a clear example of PII that, if exposed, results in a privacy violation.

NEW QUESTION # 64

A data analyst is following up on a recent, company-wide data audit of customer invoice data. Which of the following is the best option for the analyst to use?

- A. PCI DSS
- B. ISO
- C. GDPR
- D. PII

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Governance domain of CompTIA Data+ DA0-002, which includes understanding compliance frameworks for data audits, especially for customer data. The scenario involves a data audit of customer invoice data, which likely contains personal information, making privacy regulations relevant.

* PCI DSS (Option A): PCI DSS (Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard) applies specifically to payment card data, not general customer invoice data unless credit card details are involved, which isn't specified.

* GDPR (Option B): GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) is a comprehensive privacy regulation for handling personal data of EU citizens, including customer invoice data, which may contain PII like names and addresses. It's the most relevant for a company-wide data audit.

* ISO (Option C): ISO standards (e.g., ISO 27001) relate to information security management but are not specific to customer data privacy audits.

* PII (Option D): PII (Personally Identifiable Information) is a concept, not a framework or tool for conducting an audit.

The DA0-002 Data Governance domain emphasizes "identifying PII and data privacy concepts," and GDPR is the most appropriate framework for auditing customer data to ensure compliance with privacy laws.

NEW QUESTION # 65

Before distributing a report, a marketing analyst notices that the total distinct promotional email messages is less than the combined total of emails sent. Which of the following is the most likely reason for this difference?

- A. The report failed to run properly.
- B. Some emails were not delivered.
- C. The aggregation did not include all emails.
- D. A recipient received duplicate emails.

Answer: D

Explanation:

This question falls under the Data Analysis domain, focusing on analyzing discrepancies in data reports. The total distinct messages are fewer than the total emails sent, indicating a specific issue.

* The aggregation did not include all emails (Option A): If the aggregation missed emails, the total sent would be lower, not the distinct count.

* Some emails were not delivered (Option B): Undelivered emails would reduce the total sent, but the scenario implies the total sent is accurate.

* The report failed to run properly (Option C): A report failure would likely cause broader issues, not a specific discrepancy between distinct and total counts.

* A recipient received duplicate emails (Option D): If recipients received duplicates, the total emails sent would be higher than the distinct messages (unique email content), explaining the difference.

The DA0-002 Data Analysis domain includes "applying the appropriate descriptive statistical methods," and identifying duplicates is a common analysis task to explain such discrepancies.

NEW QUESTION # 66

An analyst is building a reporting deck. The deck must include tracking and visualizing metrics and row-level security. Which of the following actions should the analyst take after meeting all of the requirements?

- A. Present an analysis of the data.
- B. Find out the project due date.
- C. Show a mock-up to the team.
- D. Explain the desired level of reporting detail.

Answer: C

Explanation:

This question pertains to the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on the process of building a reporting deck. After meeting requirements (tracking metrics, visualizing data, and row-level security), the next step involves validation with stakeholders.

* Show a mock-up to the team (Option A): Creating a mock-up and presenting it to the team ensures alignment on design and functionality before finalizing, which is a standard next step in report development.

* Explain the desired level of reporting detail (Option B): This should have been done earlier during requirements gathering, not after meeting them.

* Present an analysis of the data (Option C): Data analysis might inform the deck, but the task focuses on building the deck, not presenting analysis.

* Find out the project due date (Option D): The due date should have been established earlier in the project planning phase.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "translating business requirements to form the appropriate visualization," and showing a mock-up ensures the reporting deck meets stakeholder expectations.

NEW QUESTION # 67

A manager wants to use the information in a recurring report on incomplete timesheets for the prior month to guide employee outreach. Which of the following report types is the best for this task?

- A. Summary
- B. Snapshot
- C. Infographic
- D. Ad hoc

Answer: A

Explanation:

This question is part of the Visualization and Reporting domain, focusing on selecting the appropriate report type for a specific purpose. The manager needs a recurring report on incomplete timesheets to guide outreach, which requires a concise, data-driven report.

* Summary (Option A): A summary report aggregates data (e.g., total incomplete timesheets per employee) and presents it concisely, making it ideal for recurring use to guide decisions like employee outreach.

* Infographic (Option B): Infographics are visual representations for broad audiences, not typically used for recurring, detailed employee outreach tasks.

* Snapshot (Option C): A snapshot report captures data at a specific point in time, but it's not ideal for recurring analysis of trends or aggregates.

* Ad hoc (Option D): Ad hoc reports are one-time, on-demand reports, not suitable for recurring needs.

The DA0-002 Visualization and Reporting domain includes "the appropriate visualization in the form of a report", and a summary report best fits the need for recurring, actionable data.
