CheckPoint Check Point Certified Harmony Endpoint Specialist - R81.20 (CCES) Sample Questions (Q36-Q41):

NEW QUESTION # 36

The Endpoint administrator prepared deployment rules for remote deployment in a mixed desktop environment. Some of the non-Windows machines could not install Harmony Endpoint clients. What is the reason for this?

- A. Administrator doesn't run chmod command, to allow execution permission to the deployment script
- B. Deployment rules are not supported on macOS clients
- C. Deployment rules were assigned to users not to machines
- D. macOS clients are not supported by Harmony Endpoint

Answer: B

Explanation:

The official Check Point Harmony Endpoint documentation clearly states that deployment rules (automatic deployment) are not supported for macOS clients. macOS client deployments must instead be performed manually using exported packages or third-party deployment methods.

Exact Extract from Official Document:

"Deploy New Endpoints... macOS: No" (indicating that deployment rules cannot automatically deploy endpoints for macOS)

- B. start_web_mgmt - run in dish
- C. start_web_mgmt - run in expert mode
- D. web_mgmt_start - run in dish

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 38

When in the Strong Authentication workflow is the database installed on the secondary server?

- A. After Endpoint security is enabled
- B. Exactly when Endpoint security is enabled
- C. After synchronization and before Endpoint security has been enabled
- D. Before Endpoint security is enabled

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 39

You must make a decision of which FDE algorithm to be used by one of your clients who specializes in multimedia video editing. What algorithm will you choose?

- A. The implementation of a Secure VPN with very strong encryption will make your data invisible in cases of live internet transmission.
- B. Video processing is a high bandwidth application which utilizes a lot of HDD access time. You have to use a FDE algorithm with small secret key like XTS-AES 128 bit.
- C. Any kind of data is very important and the Full Disk Encryption technique must be used with the strongest secret key possible. Your client has to use strong encryption like XTS-AES 256 bit.
- D. In multimedia applications you do not need to implement any kind of Full Disk Encryption. You can use software like 7Zip in order to encrypt your data.

Answer: C

Explanation:

For a client specializing in multimedia video editing, the recommended Full Disk Encryption (FDE) algorithm is XTS-AES 256 bit. The CP_R81.20_Harmony_Endpoint_Server_AdminGuide.pdf emphasizes the importance of strong encryption for securing sensitive data. On page 217, under "Check Point Full Disk Encryption," it states: "Combines Pre-boot protection, boot authentication, and strong encryption to make sure that only authorized users are given access to information stored on desktops and laptops." Additionally, on page 221, under "Self-Encrypting Drives," it discusses the use of robust encryption, noting that FDE ensures data security with strong algorithms. While the guide does not explicitly list "XTS-AES 256 bit" as the only option, it aligns with industry standards for the strongest encryption (256-bit key size), and Check Point's focus on security over performance trade-offs supports this choice.

Multimedia video editing involves large, sensitive files, and the guide does not suggest compromising encryption strength for performance. Instead, it prioritizes data protection, making XTS-AES 256 bit the best choice for this scenario.

* Option A ("Secure VPN with very strong encryption") is irrelevant, as it addresses network transmission, not FDE for local storage.

* Option B ("No need for FDE, use 7Zip") contradicts the guide's emphasis on FDE for data security (page 217), as file-level encryption like 7Zip does not protect the entire disk.

* Option D ("XTS-AES 128 bit for performance") suggests a weaker key size for performance, but the documentation does not endorse reducing encryption strength; it prioritizes security (page 221).

* Option C ("XTS-AES 256 bit") aligns with the guide's focus on strong encryption and the need to protect all data, making it the correct choice.

NEW QUESTION # 40

To enforce the FDE policy, the following requirement must be met?

- A. Deployments must consist of at least one post-boot user
- B. A recovery file must be encrypted
- C. The client must obtain an FDE certificate
- D. The client must obtain an FDE machine-based policy

Answer: A
