161. Frage

What is one of the purposes of the Config file in the UiPath Document Understanding Template?

- A. It contains the configuration settings for the UiPath Robot and Orchestrator integration.
- B. It defines the input document types and formats supported by the template.
- C. It stores the API keys and authentication credentials for accessing external services.
- D. It specifies the output file path and format for the processed documents.

Antwort: C

Begründung:

The Config file in the UiPath Document Understanding Template is a JSON file that contains various parameters and values that control the behavior and functionality of the template. One of the purposes of the Config file is to store the API keys and authentication credentials for accessing external services, such as the Document Understanding API, the Computer Vision API, the Form Recognizer API, and the Text Analysis API. These services are used by the template to perform document classification, data extraction, and data validation tasks. The Config file also allows the user to customize the template according to their needs, such as enabling or disabling human-in-the-loop validation, setting the retry mechanism, defining the custom success logic, and specifying the taxonomy of document types.
