You are tasked with describing the various frames used in 802.11 communications.

What frame is used for spectrum management, fast BSS transition and some other actions taken within a BSA?

- A. BlockAck
- B. Action
- C. PS Poll
- D. CTS

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 14

You are troubleshooting throughput problems for a WLAN cell. The cell is provisioned with an 802.11ac dual- band AP. Users connected with both 5 GHz and 2.4 GHz connections are reporting performance problems.

The AP settings are properly optimized. No interface issues have been detected (either co-channel interference or non-Wi-Fi interference) and the number of associated users is low.

What should you analyze to resolve the issue?

- A. the Ethernet uplink and the network infrastructure
- B. The 5 GHz radio configuration
- C. The 2.4 GHz radio configuration
- D. The antennas used on the client devices

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 15

What hardware feature of some enterprise Aps may allow for this without a forklift upgrade?

- A. Adding an 802.11ac module to the existing APs
- B. Replace the antennas with 802.11ac antennas
- C. Converting the 802.11n radio to an 802.11ac radio through software
- D. Simply check the Enable 802.11ac checkbox in the web-based configuration interface

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 16

What is the function of 802.11 Management frames?

- A. Communicate configuration changes between WLAN controller and APs
- B. Manage the flow of data
- C. Prioritize network administration traffic
- D. Manage the BSS

Answer: D

Explanation:

The function of 802.11 management frames is to manage the BSS. A BSS (Basic Service Set) is a group of STAs (stations) that share a common SSID (Service Set Identifier) and communicate with each other through an AP (access point) or directly in an ad hoc mode. Management frames are one of the three types of 802.11 frames, along with control and data frames. Management frames are used to establish, maintain, and terminate associations between STAs and APs, as well as to advertise and discover BSSs, exchange security information, report errors, and perform other management functions. The other options are not correct, as they are not functions of 802.11 management frames. Prioritizing network administration traffic, communicating configuration changes between WLAN controller and APs, and managing the flow of data are functions of other types of frames or protocols. ## NEW QUESTION # 17

Which one of the following is not an 802.11 Management frame?

- A. PS-Poll
- B. Beacon
- C. Action
- D. Authentication

Answer: A

Explanation:

A PS-Poll (Power Save Poll) frame is not an 802.11 management frame. A PS-Poll frame is a type of control frame that is used by a STA in power save mode to request data frames from an AP. A STA in power save mode can conserve battery power by periodically sleeping and waking up. When a STA sleeps, it cannot receive any data frames from the AP, so it informs the AP of its power save status by setting a bit in its MAC header. The AP then buffers any data frames destined for the sleeping STA until it wakes up. When a STA wakes up, it sends a PS-Poll frame to the AP, indicating its association ID and requesting any buffered data frames. The AP then responds with one or more data frames, followed by an ACK or BA frame from the STA. The other options are not correct, as they are types of 802.11 management frames. An Action frame is used to perform various management actions, such as spectrum management, QoS management, radio measurement, etc. A Beacon frame is used to advertise the presence and capabilities of an AP or BSS. An Authentication frame is used to establish or terminate an authentication relationship between a STA and an AP.
