- A. Specify the desired result
- B. Provide the resources and skills to deliver the desired result
- C. Ensure the technical integrity of a project
- D. Develop a project's products

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 147

What is an advantage of dividing the project into stages?

- A. Detailed plans can be prepared closer to the time events will take place
- B. The project can be authorized by the project manager on a stage by stage basis
- C. the project board can delegate management of the project to team managers
- D. The project brief can be updated towards the end of each stage

Answer: A

Explanation:

One of the advantages of dividing the project into stages, as advocated by PRINCE2, is that detailed plans can be prepared closer to the time events will take place. This allows planning to be based on more accurate, up-to-date information, improving the relevance and accuracy of the plans. This approach also allows for better response to changes and risks, as planning for later stages can adjust based on the outcomes and learnings from earlier stages.

NEW QUESTION # 149

Which PRINCE2 principle is supported by the setting of tolerances for the three levels of plan?

- A. Continued business justification
- B. Manage by stages
- C. Learn from experience
- D. Manage by exception

Answer: D

Explanation:

The PRINCE2 principle supported by the setting of tolerances for the three levels of plan (Project, Stage, and Team Plans) is "Manage by exception." This principle allows management to set predefined tolerances for project objectives, and only escalate issues to higher management if these tolerances are exceeded, thereby facilitating efficient use of management time and focus.
