EC-COUNCIL EC-Council Disaster Recovery Professional (EDRP) Sample Questions (Q134-Q139):

NEW QUESTION # 134

Mike is installing a new file server running on the Windows Server 2012 operating system. In order to enable the backup and restoration capabilities of that file server, Mike needs to install a specific feature inside the Windows Server 2012 operating system. Which feature should Mike install by using which built-in Windows Server application?

- A. Windows Server Backup, Administrative Tools
- B. Server Migration, Administrative Tools
- C. Windows Server Backup, Microsoft Management Console
- D. Server Migration, Microsoft Management Console

Answer: A

Explanation:

Windows Server Backup, accessed via Administrative Tools in Windows Server 2012, enables backup and restoration capabilities for Mike's file server.

* Option A: MMC is a framework, not the direct access point.

* Option C/D (Server Migration): For server transitions, not backup.

* "Windows Server Backup, launched from Administrative Tools, provides backup and restore functions in Windows Server 2012" (Module: System Recovery, Section: Windows Server Tools).

NEW QUESTION # 135

Fill in the blank with the appropriate phrase.

_____ privilege escalation is the process of attempting to access sources with a higher access, such as a user account trying to access admin privileges.

Answer:

Explanation:

Vertical

NEW QUESTION # 136

Which of the following terms refers to a client-server architecture that is merged with layered architecture?

- A. Tightly Coupled Architecture
- B. Application Server-Tier Architecture
- C. Client-Server Architecture
- D. N-Tier Architecture

Answer: D

Explanation:

N-Tier Architecture combines client-server principles with multiple layers (e.g., presentation, application, data), enhancing scalability and flexibility.

* Option B: Not a standard term.

* Option C: Basic client-server, not layered.

* Option D: Refers to dependency, not architecture type.

* "N-Tier Architecture merges client-server with layered design, supporting robust, scalable systems for DR" (Module: Network Architectures, Section: Architecture Types).

NEW QUESTION # 137

Which of the following terms refers to a storage technology that is used to capture real-time data changes and facilitate data restore points and recovery?

- A. Mirroring
- B. Virtual Tape Library (VTL)
- C. Disk-to-Disk (D2D)
- D. Continuous Data Protection (CDP)

Answer: D

Explanation:

Continuous Data Protection (CDP) is a technology that continuously captures and saves data changes in real time or near real time, allowing for granular restore points. Unlike traditional backups that occur at scheduled intervals, CDP tracks every change to data, enabling recovery to any point in time before a failure. In this context, CDP is the best fit as it facilitates real-time data capture and recovery.

* Option B (Mirroring): Mirroring duplicates data across two or more storage devices for redundancy but doesn't inherently capture real-time changes for multiple restore points.

* Option C (Virtual Tape Library): A VTL emulates tape storage using disk-based systems, primarily for backup, not real-time change capture.

* Option D (Disk-to-Disk): D2D refers to backing up data from one disk to another, typically at scheduled intervals, not in real time.

* EDRP v3 discusses CDP as an advanced backup technology under data protection strategies, highlighting its role in minimizing data loss by providing continuous recovery points (Module: Data Backup and Recovery).

NEW QUESTION # 138

Emma was conducting scenario training in her organization. In the training phase that was currently being conducted, the participants were well informed in advance about the training taking place. Which training phase was currently being conducted?

- A. Review Phase
- B. Execution Phase
- C. Planning Phase
- D. Warning Phase

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Planning Phase of scenario training involves preparing participants, informing them in advance about the exercise, and setting objectives. Emma's advance notification aligns with this phase.

* Option A (Warning Phase): Not a standard training phase; implies immediate alerts.

* Option B (Review Phase): Post-training analysis, not pre-informed.

* Option D (Execution Phase): The actual conduct, not the preparation.

* "The Planning Phase of scenario training ensures participants are informed and prepared in advance, establishing the foundation for effective execution" (Module: Training and Awareness, Section: Training Phases).
