CRP 458 VISUAL ARTS IN THE URBAN CONTEXT

Final Assignment: Presentation on a Public Artwork (50% of Final Grade)

DESCRIPTION

For your final assignment, you are expected to select an example of public art, preferably located in Türkiye, but selections from other locations are also acceptable if appropriate. This could be a mural, sculpture, installation, or any other form of public artwork situated in an accessible urban environment. You will prepare and deliver a 15–20 minute oral presentation that offers a thorough and thoughtful analysis of your chosen work in relation to the visual, environmental, social, and cultural contexts that surround it.

The artwork you choose should not be newly installed; it should have existed long enough to have interacted meaningfully with its environment and the collective memory of the community (not necessarily positively). You are expected to consider how the piece has become part of the place's identity, how it has been received by the public over time, and how it might reflect or challenge the social and cultural fabric of its surroundings.

In your presentation, you should begin with a detailed description of the selected artwork, providing essential information such as its title (if available), the artist's name, the date of creation, the location, the medium, and a careful account of its visual features and spatial setting. Following this, you are expected to give a brief overview of the artist's background, including key aspects of their biography, artistic practice, and previous works, in order to understand the objectives and intentions behind the selected project.

A critical part of your analysis should focus on how the artwork interacts with its environment and the community it serves. You should consider the physical, social, and emotional responses that the work generates, how it has influenced or been integrated into everyday life, and how it relates to public discourse or collective experiences in the space. Moreover, try to provide a visual analysis if relevant, employing the concepts of visual elements and design principles discussed throughout the course, such as line, color, form, scale, balance, and texture, and explaining how they function within the artwork to create meaning or provoke reactions.

Your presentation should also situate the work within its broader social, cultural, or historical context, exploring the external factors that have influenced its creation or reception. Lastly, you are expected to engage critically with the discussions we have had throughout the semester regarding art in general and the role of public art in the urban landscape in particular, relating your chosen work to key ideas such as interacting with art, place-making, public participation, identity, or contestation in public space. You are encouraged to support your presentation with clear and relevant visual materials, including photographs, diagrams, or maps that can help illustrate your points and enhance your analysis.

IMPORTANT REQUIREMENTS

It is crucial to conduct a preliminary investigation before proposing a public artwork for this assignment. You must ensure that enough information and resources are available to prepare a meaningful and well-supported presentation. Basic data such as the artist's background, the history of the work, critical commentary, and contextual material should be accessible through reliable sources.
