NEW QUESTION # 67

A financial enterprise is planning to set up a user authentication mechanism to login to the Salesforce system.

Due to regulatory requirements, the CIO of the company wants user administration, including passwords and authentication requests, to be managed by an external system that is only accessible via a SOAP webservice.

Which authentication mechanism should an identity architect recommend to meet the requirements?

- A. Identity Connect
- B. OAuth Web-Server Flow
- C. Just-in-Time Provisioning
- D. Delegated Authentication

Answer: D

Explanation:

Delegated Authentication is an authentication mechanism that allows Salesforce to delegate the authentication process to an external system via a SOAP webservice. The external system can manage the user administration, passwords, and authentication requests. The other options are either not suitable or not supported for this use case. ### NEW QUESTION # 68

Universal containers (UC) has built a custom based Two-factor Authentication (2fa) system for their existing on-premise applications. They are now implementing Salesforce and would like to enable a Two-factor login process for it, as well. What is the recommended solution an architect should consider?

- A. Use custom login flows to connect to the existing custom 2fa system for use in Salesforce.
- B. Use the custom 2fa system for on-premise applications and native 2fa for Salesforce.
- C. Replace the custom 2fa system with an app exchange app that supports on-premise applications and Salesforce.
- D. Replace the custom 2fa system with Salesforce 2fa for on-premise application and Salesforce.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

Using custom login flows to connect to the existing custom 2fa system for use in Salesforce is the recommended solution because it allows you to leverage your existing 2fa infrastructure and provide a consistent user experience across your applications. Custom login flows let you customize the authentication process by adding extra screens or logic before or after the standard login<sup>1</sup>. You can use Apex code to call your custom 2fa system and verify the user's identity<sup>2</sup>. This option also gives you more flexibility and control over the 2fa process than using native 2fa or an app exchange app<sup>3</sup>. Northern Trail Outfitters (NTO) uses the Customer 360 Platform implemented on Salesforce Experience Cloud. The development team in charge has learned of a contactless user feature, which can reduce the overhead of managing customers and partners by creating users without contact information.

What is the potential impact to the architecture if NTO decides to implement this feature?

- A. If contactless user is upgraded to Community license, the contact record is automatically created and linked to the user record, but not associated with an Account.
- B. Custom registration handler is needed to correctly assign External Identity or Community license for the newly registered contactless user.
- C. Contactless user feature is available only with the External Identity license, which can restrict the Experience Cloud functionality available to the user.
- D. Passwordless authentication cannot be supported because the mobile phone receiving one-time password (OTP) needs to match the number on the contact record.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

According to the Salesforce documentation<sup>3</sup>, contactless user feature allows creating users without contact information, such as email address or phone number. This reduces the overhead of managing customers and partners who don't need or want to provide their contact information. However, if a contactless user is upgraded to a Community license, a contact record is automatically created and linked to the user record, but not associated with an account. This can impact the architecture of NTO's Customer 360 Platform, as they may need to associate contacts with accounts for reporting or other purposes.
