VMware Cloud Foundation 5.2 Administrator Sample Questions (Q162-Q167):

NEW QUESTION # 162

Which feature of VMware Lifecycle Manager allows an administrator to manage the lifecycle of ESXi hosts by applying a consistent image across the hosts in a cluster?

- A. vSphere Auto Deploy
- B. Update Manager Baselines
- C. Lifecycle Manager Images
- D. Host Profiles

Answer: C

Explanation:

VMware Lifecycle Manager (vLCM) enables administrators to manage the lifecycle of ESXi hosts by applying a consistent image across the hosts in a cluster. These images include the ESXi version, firmware, drivers, and settings, ensuring consistency and simplifying updates and patches across all hosts in a cluster.

NEW QUESTION # 163

An administrator logged into NSX Manager to view host details. The administrator noticed that the "Tunnel" status for the ESXi hosts, in the VI workload domain, is showing down.

What is a possible reason the ESXi host tunnels are showing down in NSX?

- A. The host TEP IP addresses are being dynamically assigned through DHCP instead of being statically assigned.
- B. The IGMP has been disabled on the network.
- C. The overlay traffic is being blocked by the gateway firewall.
- D. The MTU setting for the host TEPs has been set to 1500.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The "Tunnel" status in NSX indicates the status of the VXLAN tunnels used for communication between ESXi hosts. If the MTU setting for the host Tunnel Endpoint (TEP) is incorrectly set to 1500, this can cause issues with VXLAN encapsulation, as VXLAN packets typically require an MTU of at least 1600 bytes to function correctly. Setting the MTU too low can cause packet drops and result in the tunnel status being down.
