Nutanix Certified Associate v6.10 Sample Questions (Q71-Q76):

NEW QUESTION # 71

Which workload type would be a good fit for NFS on Objects?

- A. Workloads that are updated frequently
- B. Large-scale, read heavy workloads
- C. Filesystems used for transitory or work spaces
- D. End user computing workloads

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. Large-scale, read heavy workloads.

NFS on Objects is a Nutanix feature allowing NFS clients to interact with Nutanix Objects (S3-compatible object storage) by exposing object buckets via NFS v3 protocol. This is ideal for workloads that require:

- * Large-scale access to unstructured data
- * High read concurrency
- * Cost-effective storage for infrequently changed files

Best Use Case:

Backup archives, analytics workloads, image repositories, or video streaming systems with read-heavy profiles.

Clarifications:

- * A (EUC workloads): Typically require fast, low-latency block storage (e.g., vDisks).
- * B (Transitory FS): Better suited for file services like Nutanix Files.
- * D (Frequent updates): Not ideal for object storage via NFS; performance will degrade under frequent write operations.

Official Reference:

- * Nutanix Objects with NFS Gateway - Best Practices
- * Nutanix Documentation Portal - Objects and NFS
- * Excerpt: "NFS on Objects is best suited for large-scale, read-heavy use cases where file system semantics are needed on top of object-based storage."

NEW QUESTION # 72

An administrator is performing AHV upgrades on an 8-node cluster configured with Redundancy Factor 3. How many nodes would be placed into maintenance mode simultaneously?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: C

Explanation:

In a cluster configured with Redundancy Factor 3 (RF3), the system ensures that data is replicated across at least three nodes to tolerate the failure of two nodes. During an AHV upgrade, Nutanix only places one node at a time into maintenance mode, even in an RF3 configuration, to minimize the impact on data redundancy and cluster operations.

- * A. 1: Correct, as AHV upgrades proceed node by node in RF3.
- * B. 2, C. 3, D. 4: These options are incorrect, as only one node is upgraded at a time regardless of RF3.

NEW QUESTION # 73

Which feature should be enabled to prevent password access to the CVM for both the nutanix and admin user accounts?

- A. STIG
- B. Cluster lockdown
- C. Data-at-Rest Encryption
- D. RBAC Policy on PC

Answer: B

Explanation:

To prevent password access to the CVM for both the nutanix and admin user accounts, Cluster Lockdown should be enabled. Cluster Lockdown restricts SSH access to the Controller VM (CVM), effectively disabling password-based logins for enhanced security. Access is then managed through more secure means, such as console access or specific tools like Nutanix Support.

- * A. Cluster Lockdown: Correct, as this prevents SSH-based access to the CVM.
- * B. STIG: Incorrect, as STIG (Security Technical Implementation Guide) focuses on broader compliance measures.
- * C. RBAC Policy on PC: Incorrect, as RBAC (Role-Based Access Control) controls Prism Central permissions, not CVM access.
- * D. Data-at-Rest Encryption: Incorrect, as this secures stored data, not access credentials.
