NEW QUESTION # 165

As the Developers start work during the Sprint, they realize they have selected too much work to finish in the Sprint. What should they do?

(choose the best answer)

- A. Find another Scrum Team to give the excess work to.

- B. Inform the Product Owner at the Sprint Review, but prior to the demonstration.
- C. As soon as possible in the Sprint, work with the Product Owner to remove some work or Product Backlog items.
- D. Reduce the Definition of Done and get all of the Product Backlog items done by the new definition.

Answer: C

Explanation:

This is the best answer because it respects the Scrum values of openness, commitment, and focus. The Developers should be transparent about their progress and collaborate with the Product Owner to adjust the Sprint scope accordingly. The Product Owner is responsible for maximizing the value of the product and the work of the Developers, so he or she should be involved in any decisions that affect the Sprint Goal and the Product Backlog. References:

* Scrum Guide, page 10: "If the work turns out to be different than the Developers expected, they collaborate with the Product Owner to negotiate the scope of Sprint Backlog within the Sprint."

- B. Dependencies to other products.
- C. Value of Product Backlog items.
- D. All of the above.
- E. Dependencies between Product Backlog items.

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

The Product Owner orders the Product Backlog items according to various criteria, such as:

The value of Product Backlog items. The Product Owner aims to maximize the value of the product and the work of the Scrum Team. Therefore, they prioritize the items that deliver the most value to the stakeholders and the users, considering factors such as customer satisfaction, market share, revenue, social impact, etc.

The dependencies between Product Backlog items. The Product Owner tries to minimize the dependencies between items, as they may create complexity, uncertainty, and risk. Therefore, they order the items in a way that reduces or eliminates the dependencies, or resolves them as early as possible.

The dependencies to other products. The Product Owner also considers the dependencies that the product has to other products, such as platforms, frameworks, libraries, services, etc. Therefore, they order the items in a way that aligns with the availability and compatibility of those products.

Scrum Guide 2020, page 11: "The Product Owner is accountable for effective Product Backlog management, which includes ... ordering Product Backlog items; and, ensuring that the Product Backlog is transparent, visible and understood."
