ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering, Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q107-Q112):

NEW QUESTION # 107

In regard to the quality criteria for requirements, it is correct to say that:

- A. Consistent is a quality criteria for single requirements.
- B. Non-redundant is a quality criteria for work products covering multiple requirements.
- C. Complete is an exclusive quality criteria for single requirements.
- D. Traceable is a quality criteria for work products covering multiple requirements.
- E. All quality criteria have the same relative importance.

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 108

In delimiting system and system context, a differentiation is made between the system boundary and the context boundary. This differentiation is important in order to understand which aspects impact on the requirements of the system to be developed and which do not. Choose the two correct statements. (2 Points)

- A. Only the aspects within the system boundary must be taken into account in order to determine the requirements of the system to be developed.
- B. The context boundary separates the system from the system context.
- C. The system boundary and the context boundary define the system context.
- D. The system context includes all aspects that are not relevant to the requirements of the planned system.
- E. The selection of the system boundary establishes which aspects are covered by the system to be developed and which lie beyond its scope.

Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION # 109

In regard to tool support for Requirements Engineering, which statement is correct?

- A. "Management of requirements" tools are used to manage the RE workflow.
- B. "Documentation of knowledge about the requirements" tools are used for sharing requirements.
- C. Office tools are ideal for managing requirements.
- D. "Management of RE process" tools are used to track and trace requirements.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The syllabus distinguishes categories of RE tools: office tools (general purpose), documentation of knowledge about requirements (e.g., wikis, requirements repositories), management of requirements (for traceability, attributes, baselines), management of RE process (workflow and task support) and others. Office tools can be used but have significant limitations-especially for traceabilityso A is overstated. Requirements- management tools deal with requirements objects and links, not workflow (C). Process-management tools handle workflow (B). Documentation tools, such as wikis or collaborative repositories, support sharing and collaboratively editing requirements knowledge, which makes D correct.

NEW QUESTION # 110

Which of the following sentences about template-based requirements is FALSE?

- A. They may lead requirements engineers to not focus on the requirements' contents.
- B. They look more uniform than requirements written in natural language.
- C. They aren't the most flexible.
- D. They put obstacles in capturing the most relevant information.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 111

Choose the option that correctly completes the following sentence:

The " _____ " elicitation technique relies on drawing parallels to facilitate reasoning and idea generation. Its effectiveness largely depends on choosing an appropriate point of reference for the given problem.

- A. Scenarios and storyboards
- B. Comparison
- C. Analogy
- D. Prototyping

Answer: C
