- A. 24 nodes
- B. 28 nodes
- C. 18 nodes
- D. 14 nodes

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 79

An administrator is deploying a new cluster on AWS and would like to ensure the data is encrypted. Due to cost constraints, the deployment will leverage the native local key manager (LKM).

What is the minimal number of nodes needed to support the Nutanix native LKM?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

Explanation:

To support Nutanix's native Local Key Manager (LKM) for data encryption in a cost-effective manner, a minimum of three nodes is required. This ensures that there is enough redundancy and reliability for the encryption services to function properly, complying with best practices for distributed key management.

NEW QUESTION # 81

Where can the status of a Layer 2 Extension be checked within the management interface?

- A. Prism Central > Network and Security > Virtual Private Clouds > Subnet Extensions
- B. Prism Central > Network and Security > Subnets > Subnet Extensions
- C. Prism Central > Network and Security > Connectivity > Subnet Extensions
- D. Prism Central > Network and Security > Network Services > Subnet Extensions

Answer: D

Explanation:

Monitoring the health and connectivity of stretched Layer 2 networks is vital for maintaining seamless hybrid cloud operations.

In a Nutanix environment managed via Prism Central, the specific location to verify the operational status of these extensions is under Network and Security, specifically within the Network Services section labeled Subnet Extensions. This dashboard provides visibility into the VTEP (VXLAN Tunnel Endpoint) gateways and the specific subnets that have been extended from the on-premises environment to NC2 on AWS. Administrators can check if the tunnel is "Up" or "Down" and view performance metrics associated with the stretched segment. Ensuring the status is monitored here allows for rapid troubleshooting of connectivity issues that might prevent virtual machines from communicating across the hybrid link.

NEW QUESTION # 82

Administrator has recently deployed an NC2 cluster on AWS in the North Virginia region in availability zone us-east-id. The consuming IPS from a 10.78.2.0/24 range.

The AWS VPC has two available CIDR ranges:

10.78.0.0/16

10.19.101.0/24

The following subnet have been configured in the NC2 AWS VPC:

Subnet Name	IPv4/CIDR	Availability Zone
VDI	10.78.130.0/22	us-east-1d
SQL	10.78.3.0/24	us-east-1a
DR01	10.78.2.0/24	us-east-1d
DR02	10.79.120.0/24	us-east-1d
L2stretch	10.19.101.0/24	us-east-1a

Which two subnet will show up in the Network configuration of the Prism Element Settings page? (Choose two.)

- A. VDI
- B. DR01
- C. L2stretch
- D. DR02

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

For the NC2 cluster deployed in the North Virginia region (us-east-id), consuming IPs from the 10.78.2.0/24 range, the subnets configured within the same CIDR range of 10.78.0.0/16 will be recognized.

The subnet DR01 (10.78.2.0/24) is directly within the range of the deployed cluster.

The subnet L2stretch (10.19.101.0/24) is also configured in the NC2 AWS VPC, although not in the immediate range of the cluster, it may show up due to broader network configurations for stretched L2 operations.

Subnets VDI (10.78.130.0/22) and DR02 (10.79.120.0/24), although part of the same VPC, are not directly within the immediate CIDR range or may not be recognized in this specific configuration scenario.

Refer to the Nutanix documentation on NC2 AWS VPC subnet configurations and Prism Element settings for detailed guidelines on network visibility and configuration.
