CompTIA CloudNetX Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

You are designing a campus network with a three-tier hierarchy and need to ensure secure connectivity between locations and traveling employees.

INSTRUCTIONS

Review the command output by clicking on the server, laptops, and workstations on the network.

Use the drop-down menus to determine the appropriate technology and label for each layer on the diagram.

Options may only be used once.

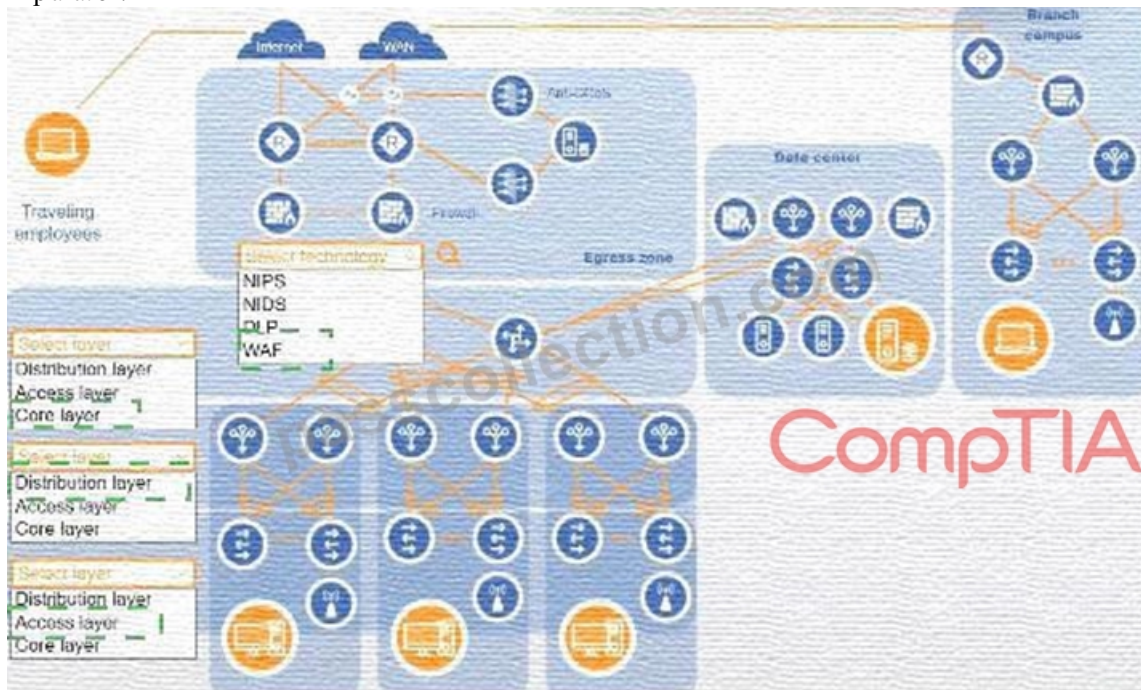

Click on the magnifying glass to make additional configuration changes.

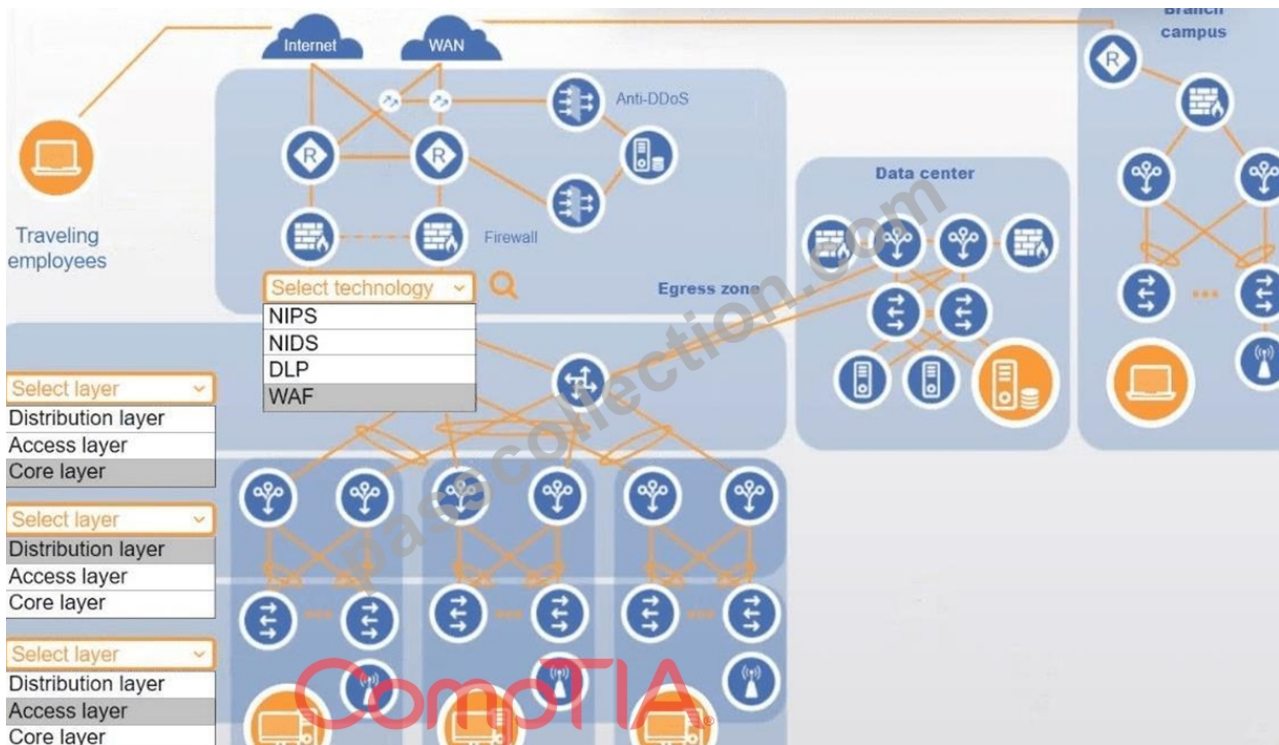

If at any time you would like to bring back the initial state of the simulation, please click the Reset All button.

Answer:

Explanation:

NEW QUESTION # 49

Throughout the day, a sales team experiences videoconference performance issues when the accounting department runs reports. Which of the following is the best solution?

- A. Increasing the throughput on the network by purchasing high-end switches
- B. Using a load balancer to split the video traffic evenly
- C. Configuring QoS on the corporate network switches
- D. Running the accounting department's reports outside of business hours

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Quality of Service (QoS) ensures that latency-sensitive traffic like videoconferencing is prioritized over bandwidth-heavy but delay-tolerant tasks like report generation. Implementing QoS on network switches allows the network to differentiate traffic types and ensure sufficient bandwidth for critical applications during congestion.

Relevant Extract from CompTIA CloudNetX CNX-001 Study Guide - under "Traffic Prioritization and QoS":

"QoS enables classification and prioritization of network traffic to ensure performance of mission-critical or real-time applications such as voice and video." Other options:

- * A. Scheduling tasks outside business hours is not scalable or reliable.
- * B. Load balancing applies to servers, not prioritization of LAN traffic.
- * D. Buying higher-end switches is costly and may not resolve contention under load.

NEW QUESTION # 50

After a company migrated all services to the cloud, the security auditor discovers many users have administrator roles on different services. The company needs a solution that:

- * Protects the services on the cloud
- * Limits access to administrative roles
- * Creates a policy to approve requests for administrative roles on critical services within a limited time
- * Forces password rotation for administrative roles
- * Audits usage of administrative roles

Which of the following is the best way to meet the company's requirements?

- A. Session-based token

- B. Access control list
- C. Conditional access
- D. Privileged access management

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Privileged Access Management (PAM) is the optimal solution to control, audit, and secure administrative access to systems and services. PAM enables role-based approval workflows, time-limited access, auditing, and credential rotation, fully aligning with the requirements.

Relevant Extract from CompTIA CloudNetX CNX-001 Study Guide - under "Identity and Access Controls":

"Privileged Access Management allows fine-grained control over administrator-level access, supports just-in-time access provisioning, password rotation, and audit logging." Other options:

- * B. Session-based tokens allow temporary access but do not enforce policies or auditing.
- * C. Conditional access provides policy enforcement based on context but lacks full PAM features.
- * D. ACLs control access to resources but don't manage privilege workflows or audits.

NEW QUESTION # 51

An organization has centralized logging capability at the on-premises data center and wants a solution that can consolidate logging from deployed cloud workloads. The organization would like to automate the detection and alerting mechanism. Which of the following best meets the requirements?

- A. IDS/IPS
- B. SIEM
- C. Syslog
- D. Data lake

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

A SIEM (Security Information and Event Management) system aggregates logs from various sources, including cloud environments, and provides real-time analytics, threat detection, and automated alerting. It integrates with cloud workloads via agents or APIs and enables centralized visibility and response capabilities.

Relevant Extract from CompTIA CloudNetX CNX-001 Study Guide - under "Security Monitoring and Event Correlation":

"SIEM solutions consolidate logs from multiple environments, including cloud and on-premises, providing automated detection, alerting, and correlation of security events."

"A SIEM supports compliance and improves incident response through real-time monitoring." Other options:

- * A. IDS/IPS are used for intrusion detection/prevention but do not provide log consolidation or alert correlation.
- * C. Data lakes store large volumes of data but lack real-time alerting without additional tools.
- * D. Syslog is a protocol for log transport, not a detection and alerting mechanism.

NEW QUESTION # 52

A cloud architect needs to change the network configuration at a company that uses GitOps to document and implement network changes. The Git repository uses main as the default branch, and the main branch is protected. Which of the following should the architect do after cloning the repository?

- A. Check out the development branch, then perform and commit the changes back to the remote repository.
- B. Create a new branch for the change, then create a pull request including the changes.
- C. Rebase the remote main branch after making the changes to implement.
- D. Use the main branch to make and commit the changes back to the remote repository.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

With GitOps, all infrastructure changes are tracked as code and committed to version-controlled repositories.

When the main branch is protected, changes should not be committed directly. Instead, best practices require that a new feature or change branch be created, followed by a pull request (PR) for peer review and approval before merging into the protected branch. Relevant Extract from CompTIA CloudNetX CNX-001 Study Guide - under "Infrastructure as Code and GitOps":

"In GitOps workflows, changes are made in feature branches, reviewed via pull requests, and merged into protected branches only after validation, ensuring auditability and control over infrastructure deployments." Other options:

- * A. Direct commits to protected branches are restricted and violate GitOps practices.
- * C. The development branch may exist, but the question specifies main is the default, and the correct process requires a PR.
- * D. Rebase is for integrating histories, not submitting approved changes.
