PRINCE2 Agile Foundation Sample Questions (Q154-Q159):

NEW QUESTION # 154

Which two statements are key responsibilities of supplier representative?

1. They highlight areas that the project may impact from a technical perspective.
2. They are partially assigned to the delivery team.
3. They create the project's specialist products.
4. They prioritize requirements.

- A. 2 and 3
- B. 3 and 4
- C. 1 and 2
- D. 1 and 4

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 155

Which practice supports identification and assessment of uncertainties?

- A. Business case
- B. Quality
- C. Plans
- D. Risk

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Agile Foundation guidance, the risk practice is explicitly responsible for the identification, assessment, and management of uncertainties, making option A the correct answer. Risk is defined as uncertainty that, if it occurs, will have a positive or negative impact on objectives. Agile recognizes that uncertainty is inherent in complex and adaptive work, so effective risk management is essential to successful delivery.

The risk practice focuses on proactively identifying uncertainties early, assessing their likelihood and impact, and determining appropriate responses. Agile Foundation documents emphasize that risk management in Agile is continuous rather than a one-time activity. Risks are regularly reviewed, updated, and addressed throughout the lifecycle as new information emerges. This aligns with Agile principles of transparency, inspection, and adaptation, allowing teams to respond to uncertainty in a timely and informed manner.

Option B, plans, focuses on outlining how objectives will be achieved and how work will be organized over time. While planning may take risks into account, it does not primarily identify or assess uncertainties. Option C, quality, ensures that outputs meet agreed standards and acceptance criteria but does not deal directly with uncertainty. Option D, business case, justifies why a project should proceed by outlining costs, benefits, and risks at a high level, but it does not actively manage or assess uncertainties on an ongoing basis.

Agile Foundation guidance highlights that Agile approaches often reduce risk by delivering incrementally, seeking early feedback, and validating assumptions quickly. However, this does not eliminate the need for a structured risk practice. Instead, risk management supports Agile delivery by making uncertainties visible and manageable. By embedding risk identification and assessment into regular team activities, organizations can make better decisions, protect value, and increase confidence among stakeholders while still maintaining flexibility and responsiveness to change.

NEW QUESTION # 156

Which is a purpose of the plans theme?

- A. To communicate the approach for delivering products
- B. To monitor actual achievements against those planned

- C. To control any approved changes to the baseline
- D. To identify any deviations from the project's objectives

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 157

What does velocity typically measure?

- A. Work packages completed by the team
- B. The number of timeboxes completed
- C. The rate of progress the team is making
- D. The speed that a minimum viable product is created

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 158

Which of the following is used to support the "progress" practice?

- A. Agilometer
- B. Burn charts
- C. Team skills matrix
- D. Trading/swapping

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Agile Foundation guidance, the progress practice focuses on understanding, monitoring, and communicating how work is advancing toward agreed objectives and outcomes. Burn charts are a key tool used to support this practice, making option B the correct answer. Burn charts provide a simple, visual representation of progress over time, enabling teams and stakeholders to see how much work has been completed and how much remains.

Burn charts, including burn-down and burn-up charts, are widely used in Agile environments to support transparency and informed decision-making. A burn-down chart shows the remaining work decreasing over time, while a burn-up chart displays completed work against the total scope. Both formats help teams assess whether they are on track to meet their goals within a given timebox or delivery stage. Agile Foundation materials emphasize that progress should be measured based on delivered value and completed work, not on effort spent or activities performed.

Option A, the Agilometer, is used to assess the suitability and risks of Agile adoption rather than tracking delivery progress. Option C, trading or swapping, relates to scope flexibility and prioritization, allowing teams to exchange lower-value work for higher-value items while staying within constraints. While useful, it does not directly measure or visualize progress. Option D, the team skills matrix, supports capability development and resource planning, not progress tracking.

Agile Foundation documents highlight that effective progress tracking builds trust and supports governance without excessive reporting. Burn charts enable frequent inspection of progress, early identification of issues, and timely adaptation when trends indicate potential problems. They also support the principle of manage by exception by providing clear evidence when tolerances may be exceeded. By offering a shared, easily understood view of progress, burn charts strengthen transparency, collaboration, and confidence in Agile delivery, making them an essential tool for the progress practice.
