Which of the following data source objects can be used for an SAP Datasphere Replication Flow? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Oracle database table
- B. Google Big Query dataset
- C. MS Azure SQL table
- D. ABAP CDS view

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

SAP Datasphere Replication Flows are designed for efficient and continuous data transfer from source systems into Datasphere. For these flows, specific types of data source objects are supported to ensure robust and reliable replication. Two common and highly supported data source objects are an ABAP CDS view (Core Data Services view) and an Oracle database table. ABAP CDS views are particularly relevant for replicating data from SAP source systems (like SAP S/4HANA or SAP ERP), as they provide a semantically rich and optimized way to access business data. Oracle database tables represent a broad category of third-party relational databases from which data can be replicated. While Datasphere offers connectivity to various cloud data warehouses like Google BigQuery or MS Azure SQL for virtual access or snapshotting, Replication Flows are typically used for continuous, high-volume data ingestion from operational databases and SAP systems using their native database tables or views like CDS views.
