CWNP Certified Wireless IoT Solutions Administrator(2025 Edition) Sample

Questions (Q78-Q83):

NEW QUESTION # 78

Which wireless technology is MOST appropriate for low-power sensors that must operate for multiple years on a coin-cell battery?

- A. Zigbee
- B. Wi-Fi 6
- C. LoRaWAN
- D. Bluetooth Classic

Answer: C

Explanation:

LoRaWAN is optimized for extremely low power consumption and long-range communication, allowing sensors to operate for years on small batteries. Wi-Fi and Bluetooth Classic consume too much power, and Zigbee, although low-power, does not match LoRaWAN's battery longevity.

NEW QUESTION # 79

Why is it important to adhere to safety and building codes when installing equipment?

- A. It is an insurance requirement designed to reduce insurance rates and reduce Incident reports against Insurance policies
- B. They can be ignored as they are regulations designed for other industries
- C. It prevents equipment from falling to the floor and being damaged because of the Impact
- D. It protects the life and health of Installers and end users during installation and after the system is deployed

Answer: D

Explanation:

Primary Concern: Safety: Building codes and safety regulations are there to prevent injury and accidents. This includes potential harm from improper equipment installation (falling objects, electrical hazards, etc.).

Legal and Ethical Responsibility: Organizations have an obligation to provide a safe workplace for employees and protect the well-being of end-users.

Insurance Considerations: While complying with codes may impact insurance rates, this shouldn't be the primary motivation, as safety itself is paramount.

NEW QUESTION # 80

What is a valid reason to continue using older wireless networking technologies?

- A. The desire to use older encryption processes, which are faster regardless of the CPU implemented
- B. The desire for faster communications
- C. The desire to support internal antennas
- D. A requirement to support legacy devices

Answer: D

Explanation:

* Legacy Support: The primary reason to continue using older wireless technologies is the need to connect with devices that don't support newer standards (e.g., old sensors or equipment).

* Other Reasons (Not as Strong):

* Cost: Replacing legacy devices can be expensive.

* Reliability: Some legacy technologies might be well-proven in specific settings.

NEW QUESTION # 81

What part(s) of the OSI network model does the IETF primarily focus on for the development of standards?

- A. Physical Layer and above
- B. Network Layer and above
- C. Data Link Layer

- D. All layers

Answer: B

Explanation:

IETF's Focus: The Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF) primarily develops and standardizes internet protocols operating at the Network Layer (Layer 3) and above in the OSI model.

Key Protocols: Some prominent IETF-developed protocols include:

IP (Internet Protocol): Foundation of internet addressing and routing.

TCP (Transmission Control Protocol): Reliable, connection-oriented data transport.

UDP (User Datagram Protocol): Connectionless, best-effort data transport.

DNS (Domain Name System): Translates domain names into IP addresses.

HTTP (Hypertext Transfer Protocol): Web communication.

NEW QUESTION # 82

You must plan for encryption in a wireless solution deployment. What type of data should always be encrypted? (Choose the single best answer.)

- A. Non-sensitive data at rest
- B. Sensitive data in memory
- C. Sensitive data in transmission
- D. Non-sensitive data in archives

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Most Vulnerable In Transit: Sensitive data (passwords, health information, etc.) is most susceptible to interception while being sent over a wireless network. Encryption is crucial at this stage.

* Encryption at Rest and in Memory: While also important, these are often handled with different cryptographic techniques depending on the system.

References:

Wireless Security Protocols: Details on encryption standards like WPA2/WPA3, TLS that focus on protecting data during transmission.
