F5 BIG-IP Administration Data Plane Configuration Sample Questions (Q10-Q15):

NEW QUESTION # 10
A BIG-IP Administrator creates a new Virtual Server to load balance SSH traffic. Users are unable to log on to the servers.
What should the BIG-IP Administrator do to resolve the issue?

- A. Set Destination Address/Mask to 0.0.0.0/0
- B. Set Protocol to UDP
- C. Set HTTP Profile to None
- D. Set Source Address to 10.1.1.2

Answer: C

Explanation:
SSH is a TCP Layer 4 protocol. Applying an HTTP profile causes BIG-IP to expect HTTP headers, breaking SSH sessions. Removing the HTTP profile allows raw TCP forwarding.

NEW QUESTION # 11

Some users who connect to a busy Virtual Server have connections reset by the BIG-IP system. Pool member resources are NOT a factor.
What is a possible cause?

- A. Connection Limit is set too low
- B. Connection Rate Limit is set too high
- C. Rewrite profile not configured
- D. Server SSL profile not reconfigured

Answer: A

Explanation:
When the connection limit is reached, BIG-IP resets new connections, even if pool members are healthy.

NEW QUESTION # 12
A BIG-IP Administrator finds the following log entry after a report of user issues connecting to a virtual server:
01010201: Intercept exhaustion on 10.70.110.112 to 192.28.123.250:80 (proto 6) How should the BIG-IP Administrator modify the SNAT pool that is associated with the virtual server? (Choose one answer)

- A. Increase the timeout of the SNAT addresses
- B. Add an IP address to the SNAT pool
- C. Remove the SNAT pool and apply SNAT Automap
- D. Remove an IP address from the SNAT pool

Answer: B

Explanation:
The log message "Intercept exhaustion" indicates that the BIG-IP system has exhausted the available source port translations for one or more SNAT addresses. This occurs when too many concurrent client connections are being translated through a limited number of SNAT IP addresses, and all ephemeral source ports (typically ~64,000 per SNAT IP) are in use.
According to the BIG-IP Administration: Data Plane Configuration documentation:
Each SNAT IP address provides a finite number of available source ports.
When the number of concurrent connections exceeds the available port space, the BIG-IP logs an Intercept exhaustion error and new connections fail.
The recommended resolution is to increase the available SNAT resources by adding additional IP addresses to the SNAT pool.
Why the other options are incorrect:
A . Increase the timeout of the SNAT addresses
Increasing timeouts may actually worsen the problem by keeping ports allocated longer, accelerating port exhaustion.
B . Remove the SNAT pool and apply SNAT Automap
SNAT Automap uses the Self IP addresses on the egress VLAN, which may not provide additional capacity and can introduce routing or design issues. This is not a direct or recommended fix for SNAT exhaustion.
C . Remove an IP address from the SNAT pool
This would reduce the number of available source ports and further exacerbate the intercept exhaustion condition.
Correct Resolution:
By adding an IP address to the SNAT pool, the BIG-IP increases the total number of available source ports, alleviating intercept exhaustion and restoring successful client connections.

NEW QUESTION # 13
A node is a member of multiple pools and hosts different applications. If one application becomes unavailable, only that pool member should be marked down.
What should the BIG-IP Administrator deploy?

- A. HTTP monitor with custom send/receive
- B. TCP monitor
- C. ICMP + TCP monitor
- D. UDP monitor

Answer: A

Explanation:
Application-level monitors ensure that only the affected service is marked down, not the entire node.

NEW QUESTION # 14
A Standard Virtual Server for a web application is configured with Automap for Source Address Translation. The original client IP must be known by backend servers.
What should the BIG-IP Administrator configure?

- A. SNAT pool using client IP
- B. HTTP profile to insert X-Forwarded-For
- C. Performance (HTTP) Virtual Server
- D. HTTP Transparent profile

Answer: B

Explanation:
The X-Forwarded-For header preserves the original client IP when SNAT is enabled.
