ISACA Advanced in AI Security Management (AAISM) Exam Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

A PRIMARY objective of responsibly providing AI services is to:

- A. Ensure the confidentiality and integrity of data processed by AI models
- B. Build trust for decisions and predictions made by AI models
- C. Improve the ability of AI models to learn from new data
- D. Enable AI models to operate autonomously

Answer: B

Explanation:

AAISM emphasizes that the primary objective of responsible AI is to establish and maintain trust in AI-driven decisions and predictions. Trust is achieved through transparency, accountability, fairness, and governance.

While confidentiality and integrity are critical technical objectives, they are not the overarching purpose of responsible AI service provision. Autonomy and learning ability are features of AI, but without trust, adoption and compliance falter. The correct answer is that responsible AI services must focus on building trust in AI outcomes.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Security and assurance requirements for AI systems should FIRST be embedded in the:

- A. Model deployment phase
- B. Model design phase
- C. Model testing phase
- D. Model training phase

Answer: B

Explanation:

AAISM directs organizations to embed security, safety, and compliance controls at design time ("secure- by-design" and "shift-left"), ensuring requirements for robustness, privacy, and governance are defined as non-functional constraints on architecture, data sourcing, model choices, and evaluation criteria before any model is trained. Deferring these requirements to training, testing, or deployment increases residual risk and rework, and weakens traceability of control coverage.

NEW QUESTION # 34

The PRIMARY benefit of implementing moderation controls in generative AI applications is that it can:

- A. Optimize the model's response time
- B. Filter out harmful or inappropriate content
- C. Ensure the generated content adheres to privacy regulations
- D. Increase the model's ability to generate diverse and creative content

Answer: B

Explanation:

AAISM materials identify the primary benefit of moderation controls in generative AI systems as their ability to filter out harmful, offensive, or inappropriate content before it is delivered to users. This safeguards organizational reputation, compliance, and user trust. While moderation may indirectly support compliance with privacy requirements, its main function is ensuring that outputs align with ethical and safety standards.

Moderation does not enhance creativity or response speed. Its primary value is in controlling the quality of generated outputs by blocking harmful content.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which of the following metrics BEST evaluates the ability of a model to correctly identify all true positive instances?

- A. Specificity
- B. F1 score
- C. Recall
- D. Precision

Answer: C

Explanation:

AAISM technical coverage identifies recall as the metric that specifically measures a model's ability to capture all true positive cases out of the total actual positives. A high recall means the system minimizes false negatives, ensuring that relevant instances are not overlooked. Precision instead measures correctness among predicted positives, specificity focuses on true negatives, and the F1 score balances precision and recall but does not by itself indicate the completeness of capturing positives. The official study guide defines recall as the most direct metric for evaluating how well a model identifies all relevant positive cases, making it the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 36

An organization uses an AI tool to scan social media for product reviews. Fraudulent social media accounts begin posting negative reviews attacking the organization's product. Which type of AI attack is MOST likely to have occurred?

- A. Deepfake
- B. Availability attack
- C. Model inversion
- D. Data poisoning

Answer: B

Explanation:

The AAISM materials classify availability attacks as attempts to disrupt or degrade the functioning of an AI system so that its outputs become unreliable or unusable. In this scenario, the fraudulent social media accounts are deliberately overwhelming the AI tool with misleading negative reviews, undermining its ability to deliver accurate sentiment analysis. This aligns directly with the concept of an availability attack. Model inversion relates to reconstructing training data from outputs, deepfakes involve synthetic content generation, and data poisoning corrupts the training set rather than manipulating inputs at runtime. Therefore, the fraudulent review campaign is most accurately identified as an availability attack.
