NEW QUESTION # 22
MyCo, a telecom company, uses Pega Customer Decision Hub to present offers to qualified customers. The business recently decided to send offer messages through the email channel. The Design department has designed an email treatment which includes dynamic placeholders.
As a deaccessioning architect, what do you use in order to test the visualization and the rendering of the email content, including replacing of the placeholders with customer information?

- A. Schedule an outbound run with a limited number of customers
- B. A list of customer email addresses from the Test email tab
- C. A seed list from the Test email tab
- D. Preview section from the email content editor

Answer: C

Explanation:
To test the visualization and the rendering of the email content, including replacing of the placeholders with customer information, you use a seed list from the Test email tab. A seed list is a predefined set of customers that you can use to test your email treatments before sending them to your target audience. You can select one or more customers from the seed list and send them a test email with your treatment. You can then verify how the email looks in their inbox and how the placeholders are replaced with their actual values.
