DASCA Senior Data Scientist Sample Questions (Q80-Q85):

NEW QUESTION # 80

Which of the following is an example of NLP?

- A. All of the above
- B. Finding which text documents are about similar topics
- C. Using Twitter to assess public sentiment
- D. Flagging e-mails as spam
- E. Both A and C

Answer: A

Explanation:

Natural Language Processing (NLP) is the field of machine learning that deals with human language understanding and generation.

Applications include:

Option A (Spam detection): NLP techniques classify emails based on text patterns and context.

Option B (Sentiment analysis on Twitter): NLP models analyze textual data to extract emotions, opinions, and trends.

Option C (Topic modeling): NLP clustering and probabilistic models (e.g., LDA) classify documents by semantic similarity.

Since all are valid NLP applications, the correct answer is Option E (All of the above).

NEW QUESTION # 81

Machine learning can be used in:

- A. All of the above
- B. Real-time ads on web pages and mobile devices
- C. Pattern and image recognition
- D. Web search results
- E. Fraud detection

Answer: A

Explanation:

Machine Learning has broad applications across industries and technologies:

Fraud Detection (Option A): Detecting anomalies in financial transactions, credit card usage, and cybersecurity threats.

Web Search Results (Option B): Ranking algorithms (e.g., Google's PageRank enhanced by ML techniques) improve relevance of search queries.

Real-time Ads (Option C): Online ad systems use reinforcement learning and recommendation models to target ads dynamically.

Pattern & Image Recognition (Option D): ML (especially deep learning) powers facial recognition, handwriting recognition, medical imaging, etc.

Since ML is used in all these applications, the correct answer is Option E (All of the above).

NEW QUESTION # 82

Designing an algorithm to play chess is usually an example of which type of machine learning?

- A. Pattern density
- B. Clustering
- C. Reinforcement learning
- D. Supervised learning

Answer: C

Explanation:

Chess-playing algorithms are a classic application of Reinforcement Learning (RL) in machine learning.

In RL, an agent (chess program) interacts with an environment (chessboard/game state).

It learns optimal strategies (policies) by trial and error, guided by reward signals (e.g., winning the game, capturing pieces).

Famous examples include DeepMind's AlphaZero and earlier systems like IBM's Deep Blue, which incorporated reinforcement principles along with heuristics.

Option B (Pattern density): Not a recognized ML paradigm

Option C (Supervised learning): While supervised ML can be used to predict moves from labeled games, chess strategy learning is best modeled as reinforcement learning.

Option D (Clustering): Not applicable; clustering is unsupervised grouping of data.

Thus, chess-playing algorithms are best categorized as Reinforcement Learning # Option A.

NEW QUESTION # 83

Which classification steps are performed in inductive techniques?

- i. Training Step
- ii. Test Step
- iii. Validation Step
- iv. Application Step

- A. i, ii
- B. i, ii, iv
- C. ii, iii
- D. i, ii, iii, iv

Answer: D

Explanation:

Inductive learning techniques in machine learning (such as decision trees, neural networks, or SVMs) follow a systematic sequence of steps for classification:

Training Step (i): A model is built using training data, where the system learns relationships between features and target labels.

Test Step (ii): The trained model is evaluated on unseen test data to measure its performance and generalizability.

Validation Step (iii): Often, a validation set is used to fine-tune model parameters, avoid overfitting, and choose the best model configuration.

Application Step (iv): The final validated model is applied to classify new, real-world data.

Since all four steps (i, ii, iii, iv) are essential to inductive classification, the correct answer is Option D (i, ii, iii, iv).

NEW QUESTION # 84

Which of the following is NOT a correct situation to use Agile?

- A. When changes need to be implemented during the entire process
- B. When the final product isn't clearly defined
- C. When clients/stakeholders need to be able to change the scope
- D. None of the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

Agile methodology is widely adopted in data science projects because these projects often involve uncertain goals, exploratory analysis, and changing requirements. Agile thrives in environments where iteration, collaboration, and adaptability are necessary.

Option A: True for Agile. If the final product is unclear (common in data science), Agile works well because it allows incremental discovery and iterative prototyping.

Option B: True for Agile. Agile frameworks (Scrum, Kanban) emphasize flexibility, which means the scope can evolve as stakeholders learn more from data and models.

Option C: True for Agile. Agile welcomes continuous changes through iterative sprints and feedback loops.

This adaptability is crucial in machine learning model development where data insights often reshape project direction.

Since all three situations are valid for Agile, the correct answer to "Which is NOT correct?" is None of the above (Option D).
