NEW QUESTION # 645

Which of the following is the greatest advantage that network segmentation provides?

- A. Decreased resource utilization
- B. Configuration enforcement
- C. Enhanced endpoint protection
- D. Security zones
- E. End-to-end encryption

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The greatest advantage of network segmentation is the creation of security zones, which isolate systems into separate logical or physical network sections. According to CompTIA Security+ SY0-701, segmentation is a foundational security architecture practice used to reduce the attack surface, restrict lateral movement, enforce least privilege, and contain breaches. By dividing the network into zones-such as DMZ, internal, restricted, and guest-administrators can apply tailored access controls, firewall rules, IDS/IPS placement, and monitoring boundaries.

Segmentation provides defense-in-depth by preventing attackers from reaching critical systems even if they compromise a less-secure device. It also limits broadcast domains and improves traffic visibility. End-to-end encryption (A) protects confidentiality but is unrelated to segmentation. Decreased resource utilization (B) is not a primary benefit. Enhanced endpoint protection (C) applies to host controls, not network topology.

Configuration enforcement (D) is a benefit of centralized management, not segmentation.

Therefore, the correct answer is Security zones, the core outcome and highest-value advantage of segmentation.

- A. Testing input validation on the user input fields
- B. Ensuring secure cookies are use
- C. Performing static code analysis on the software
- D. Performing code signing on company-developed software

Answer: D

Code signing involves applying a digital signature to the code using a private key that only the company possesses. The digital signature can be verified by anyone who has the corresponding public key, which can be distributed through a trusted certificate authority.
