CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q711-Q716):

NEW QUESTION # 711

A user is reporting that a computer has been very slow in recent days. The technician looks into the problem and finds pop-ups are randomly appearing on the screen. Which of the following is the next step the technician must take?

- A. Establish a plan of action.
- B. Establish a new theory and consider escalating.
- C. Establish a theory of probable cause.
- D. Establish a knowledge base.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The technician has identified the symptoms (slow performance and random pop-ups) and must now establish a theory of probable cause, such as malware or spyware infection. This step aligns with the CompTIA troubleshooting methodology.

* Why Not A (Establish a knowledge base): This is irrelevant at this stage; knowledge bases are used for reference and documentation.

* Why Not C (Establish a new theory and consider escalating): The technician has not yet created or tested a theory, making escalation premature.

* Why Not D (Establish a plan of action): Planning an action occurs after determining the cause of the problem.

CompTIA A+ Exam Reference: Core 2 (220-1102), Section 3.1, troubleshooting methodology.

NEW QUESTION # 712

A company has implemented a policy that allows employees to use personal devices to perform work duties. Which of the following policies should the technician activate to protect company information?

- A. MFA
- B. MDM
- C. MFD
- D. MAM

Answer: B

Explanation:

Mobile Device Management (MDM) policies are crucial for companies that allow employees to use personal devices for work duties. MDM enables the company to enforce security policies, manage and secure corporate data on personal devices, and ensure compliance with company standards. It allows for remote management of these devices, including the ability to remotely wipe company data if the device is lost or stolen, without impacting personal data, thereby protecting company information effectively.

NEW QUESTION # 713

A technician is tasked with upgrading a laptop's RAM. Which of the following steps should the technician take FIRST?

- A. Connect an electrostatic discharge strap.
- B. Verify the memory requirements of the motherboard.
- C. Run a diagnostic test on the current memory.
- D. Confirm that both the current and new memory are from the same brand.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 714

A user is unable to connect a mobile phone while in a car. However, a second mobile device is able to connect in the same car.

Which of the following settings should the user check on the first phone?

- A. Bluetooth
- B. Hotspot
- C. Wi-Fi
- D. Location

Answer: A

Explanation:

To connect a mobile phone to a car, you need to pair them using Bluetooth, which is a wireless technology that allows secure local networks between devices. If one phone can connect to the car but another cannot, it means that the first phone has Bluetooth enabled and paired with the car, while the second phone does not. Therefore, the user should check the Bluetooth settings on the second phone and make sure it is turned on and discoverable.

NEW QUESTION # 715

A user attempted to install an application on a desktop, and the installation attempt failed. A technician compares these installation files to those on another user's machine and finds the files are different. Which of the following should the technician do NEXT?

- A. Verify the system functionality.
- B. Determine the source of the installation file.
- C. Complete the final report.
- D. Test the functionality of the antivirus.
- E. Attempt to reinstall the application.

Answer: E
