VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Administrator Sample Questions (Q27-Q32):

NEW QUESTION # 27

An administrator must create different pricing information for clusters in a VCF fleet.

Requirements:

CPU, memory, storage costs same across clusters.

VM setup charges only for SAP HANA cluster.

All other settings remain default.

Name new policy "Resources."

Which three settings must be configured? (Choose three.)

- A. Create new policy under "Resources" for SAP HANA VM setup charges.
- B. Set "Default Policy" as default.
- C. Create new policy under "Default Policy" for SAP HANA VM setup charges.
- D. Set "Resources" policy as default.
- E. Create new policy under "Base Settings" for SAP HANA VM setup charges.
- F. Create new policy "Resources" under Base Settings and define CPU, memory, storage costs.

Answer: D,E,F

Explanation:

The VCF Automation Costing and Pricing Guide explains:

"Define core costs for CPU, memory, and storage under Base Settings to apply fleet-wide." (A)

"Mark the created policy as the default to ensure it applies globally." (B) For SAP HANA, "Create an exception policy under Base Settings with VM setup charges assigned to the SAP HANA cluster." (E) Default Policy (C, F) is system-reserved. Sub-policies under "Resources" (D) are not valid. Correct configuration steps: A, B, E.

NEW QUESTION # 28

An administrator must ensure the network team can fully utilize the Network Operations feature in VCF. What component must be installed and configured?

- A. vDefend Firewall
- B. VCF Operations Collector
- C. VCF Operations for Networks
- D. NSX Networking

Answer: C

Explanation:

VCF Operations for Networks (formerly vRNI) provides visibility into network traffic flows, NSX fabric health, application dependency mapping, and micro-segmentation planning. It integrates directly into VCF Operations dashboards under Network Operations.

The vDefend firewall is unrelated, as it provides workload-level security. The VCF Operations Collector is required for telemetry ingestion but does not provide full Network Operations. NSX itself provides the underlying virtual networking, but it must be monitored through VCF Operations for Networks.

NEW QUESTION # 29

Which security feature in ESXi ensures that only signed and trusted code can run during the host boot process?

- A. TPM 2.0 Integration
- B. Lockdown Mode
- C. vSphere Encryption
- D. Secure Boot

Answer: D

Explanation:

Secure Boot uses digital signatures to verify the integrity of the ESXi boot loader and kernel modules.

Lockdown Mode restricts remote access, TPM integration stores cryptographic keys, and vSphere Encryption secures VM data at rest, not the boot process itself.

NEW QUESTION # 30

An administrator notices intermittent network packet loss on VMs running latency-sensitive applications.

Which steps might help diagnose the issue?

- A. Ensuring the correct load-balancing policy is configured on NIC teams
- B. Checking for dropped packets at the virtual switch or port group level

- C. Examining physical NIC driver versions and firmware compatibility
- D. Migrating all VMs to a single ESXi host

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Packet drops can occur if vSwitch or port group configurations are incorrect (A), if NIC drivers are outdated or incompatible (C), or if load-balancing settings are suboptimal (D). Migrating all VMs to a single host (B) could worsen performance, not improve it.

NEW QUESTION # 31

What is the primary symptom of an issue with vSphere HA host states?

- A. Hosts frequently disconnect from vCenter Server
- B. Snapshots cannot be created or consolidated
- C. HA-protected VMs are not restarted after a host failure
- D. VMs are not being migrated using vMotion

Answer: C

Explanation:

vSphere HA (High Availability) is designed to automatically restart virtual machines on other hosts in the cluster in case of a host failure. If there is an issue with vSphere HA host states, the primary symptom is that HA-protected VMs do not restart after a host failure, which indicates a problem with HA configuration or functionality.
