CIPS Supplier Relationships Sample Questions (Q140-Q145):

NEW QUESTION # 140

A partnership relationship can be described as any relationship between a buyer and supplier where there is a good level of communication and both parties are happy with each other's performance. Is this statement TRUE?

- A. No- good levels of communication can exist in other types of relationships
- B. No- only strategic relationships involve good levels of communication.
- C. Yes- partnerships are the only relationship type where both parties are happy with each other's performance
- D. Yes- partnerships are characterised by strong relationships

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct answer is 'No- good levels of communication can exist in other types of relationships'. The study guide makes a point that not all good buyer: supplier relationships are partnerships. In fact 70% on supplier relationships will not be partnerships (according to Lambert who is quoted on p.131)

NEW QUESTION # 141

Robbie is a procurement manager at a public sector organisation. He is running a tender which is worth £2m and so will advertise this on OJEU. His manager has reminded Robbie to include CPV codes on the tender. What purpose would this serve?

- A. To ensure more suppliers bid for the tender
- B. To ensure only qualified suppliers bid for the tender
- C. To ensure suppliers know the deadline for tender submission
- D. To ensure suppliers can find the opportunity

Answer: D

Explanation:

CPV codes help suppliers find opportunities they can bid for. CPV codes are a numerical classification for products e.g. Strawberry Jam is 15332296 and when they are included on a Tender, any supplier who is registered with that same CPV code will get a notification that the tender is live. CPV codes are discussed on p.72 but not in much detail- so don't worry if you don't know much about them. So long as you know the above, you'll be fine.

NEW QUESTION # 142

A procurement manager has established a project steering committee to undertake regular reviews and audits, and to ensure a successful buyer/supplier long-term partnership. The committee membership will comprise the procurement manager (chairperson), three of their cross-functional colleagues, the supplier's partnership project manager, and an independent member. Which of the following is a potential disadvantage of the proposed committee structure?

- A. The committee includes an independent member
- B. The supplier does not have equal membership in the committee
- C. The procurement manager should not be the chairperson of the committee
- D. The size of the committee is too large as there should be a limit of three members

Answer: B

Explanation:

Effective partnership governance requires balanced representation from both buyer and supplier. If the supplier has fewer members than the buyer, decision-making power becomes unequal, potentially undermining collaboration.

NEW QUESTION # 143

Which of the following relationship types would you consider using for a Main Contractor on a building construction project, who will be responsible for co-ordinating the activities of other suppliers?

- A. partnership
- B. transactional
- C. co-destiny
- D. closer tactical

Answer: D

Explanation:

in tiered supply chains, a closer-tactical relationship could be used between a buyer and a supplier who will be responsible for co-ordinating the activities of other suppliers (p.8 of the textbook).

NEW QUESTION # 144

A company is relocating its manufacturing base to a low-cost country and is considering a partnership with a local supplier for its key components rather than a tender process. Although there are some concerns regarding confidentiality and component competitiveness, the procurement director is recommending a partnership strategy to the board of directors. The recommendation is based on a range of advantages including, but not limited to, gaining local market knowledge. Is this a valid recommendation?

- A. Yes, as intellectual property costs will be lower in a partnership
- B. No, because confidentiality risk will be higher in a partnership
- C. Yes, as investment costs can be shared in a partnership
- D. No, local market knowledge is guaranteed in a tender process

Answer: C

Explanation:

Partnerships provide access to local market knowledge, enable shared investments, and mitigate risks associated with relocation. These advantages outweigh concerns that can be managed through strong contracts and confidentiality agreements.
