Zscaler Digital Transformation Administrator Sample Questions (Q18-Q23):

NEW QUESTION # 18
The Zscaler platform can protect against malicious files, URLs and content based on a number of criteria including reputation type. What type of checking is virus scanning?

- A. Malware protection
- B. SHA-256 hashing
- C. File reputation
- D. Site reputation

Answer: A

Explanation:
Virus scanning in the Zscaler platform is part of its Malware Protection capability, which inspects file content against known virus signatures and behaviors.

NEW QUESTION # 19
What is one business risk introduced by the use of legacy firewalls?

- A. Low licensing support
- B. Low costs
- C. Performance issues
- D. Reduced management

Answer: C

Explanation:
A primary business risk introduced by legacy firewalls is performance issues. Traditional firewalls are often unable to efficiently handle modern high-volume and encrypted traffic, leading to latency, bottlenecks, and reduced network performance. This negatively impacts user experience and security posture. The study guide points out that legacy firewalls struggle with scalability and speed in today's cloud-centric environment, making performance a key concern.

NEW QUESTION # 20
Is SCIM required for ZIA?

- A. Yes
- B. No
- C. Depends
- D. Maybe

Answer: B

Explanation:
SCIM is optional for ZIA user provisioning - you can onboard users via manual CSV import, SAML attributes, or other identity integrations without implementing SCIM.

NEW QUESTION # 21
Which of the following are types of device posture?

- A. Domain Joined, Process Check, Deception Check
- B. Unauthorized Modification, OS Version, License Key
- C. Detect Crowdstrike, Crowdstrike ZTA score, First name

- D. Certificate Trust, File Path, Full Disk Encryption

Answer: B

Explanation:
Types of device posture typically include attributes that reflect the security and compliance status of a device.
This includesUnauthorized Modification, which checks if the device has unauthorized changes;OS Version, verifying if the operating system is up-to-date; andLicense Key, confirming the validity of software licenses on the device. These attributes help in assessing device trustworthiness for access control.
Other options include some irrelevant attributes such as "First name" or product-specific detections not generally categorized as device posture in Zscaler's framework.

NEW QUESTION # 22
Which attack type is characterized by a commonly used website or service that has malicious content like malicious JavaScript running on it?

- A. Phishing Attack
- B. Pre-existing Compromise
- C. Watering Hole Attack
- D. Exploit Kits

Answer: C

Explanation:
A Watering Hole Attack targets users by compromising a website or service that is commonly visited by the intended victims. The attacker injects malicious content such as malicious JavaScript or malware into the website, so when the user visits the site, their system gets infected. This attack relies on the trust users have in popular or legitimate websites and exploits it by turning those sites into infection vectors.
Pre-existing Compromise refers to attacks where the target environment is already compromised before the attack is recognized, but it does not specifically describe malicious content injected intopopular websites.
Phishing Attack involves deceiving users to click malicious links or reveal credentials, not compromising websites directly. Exploit Kits are automated tools that scan for vulnerabilities and deliver exploits but are not characterized by the use of commonly used websites hosting malicious scripts.
The study guide clearly explains Watering Hole Attacks as a method where attackers infect trusted websites frequented by target users to deliver malicious payloads.
