Huawei HCIP-Transmission V2.5 Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

40Gbit/s and 100Gbit/s coherent systems do not require dispersion compensation because the coherent board has a large dispersion tolerance. NG WDM does not support mixed transmission between non-coherent and coherent networks.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 41

OTUk_LOM is an alarm indicating that the frame alignment signal (FAS) is abnormal. This alarm occurs when the frame alignment processing is out of frame (OOF) for three consecutive milliseconds.

- A. FALSE
- B. TRUE

Answer: A

Explanation:

OTUk_LOM (Loss of Multiframe) alarm is generated when frame alignment is lost; however, the statement that it occurs when the Frame Alignment Signal (FAS) is Out of Frame (OOF) for three consecutive milliseconds is false. The actual time threshold differs slightly according to standards and vendor implementations. HCIP-Transmission clarifies these alarm thresholds and conditions to ensure precise timing in fault detection, avoiding false alarms while providing timely notifications for network maintenance.

NEW QUESTION # 42

The TNG1M404DM single board is a wavelength conversion board that can multiplex 4 channels of 40 Gbit/s services to 2 channels of 200G signals.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 43

In an OA system, the lower threshold of the receive optical power of a line board (with a PIN receiver laser) or the WDM side of an OTU board is the optical module's receiver sensitivity plus 5 dB.

- A. FALSE
- B. TRUE

Answer: A

Explanation:

In an OA (Optical Amplifier) system, the lower threshold of the receive optical power for a line board with a PIN receiver or the WDM side of an OTU board is typically the optical module's receiver sensitivity plus 3 dB, not 5 dB. Adding 3 dB accounts for margin to ensure reliable reception without unnecessary overdesign.

The 5 dB margin usually applies when an APD receiver is used, which is more sensitive but also more susceptible to noise. Thus, for PIN receivers, HCIP-Transmission guidelines specify the lower threshold as sensitivity plus 3 dB to maintain signal quality while preventing false alarms or unnecessary protection switching.

NEW QUESTION # 44

The path that data packets pass through in an MPLS network is called a label switching path (LSP). Which of the following descriptions about LSP is wrong?

- A. Transit is an intermediate node of LSP, and its position in LSP is indispensable
- B. Transit is the intermediate node of LSP. Its main function is to look up the label forwarding information table and complete MPLS packet forwarding through label switching.
- C. Like Ingress, there is only one Egress in an LSP, and both are LERs
- D. Ingress is the starting node of LSP, an LSP can only have one Ingress

Answer: A
