Nutanix Certified Professional - Unified Storage v6.5 Sample Questions (Q86-Q91):

NEW QUESTION # 86

What is the result of an administrator applying the lifecycle policy "Expire current objects after # days/months/years" to an object with versioning enabled?

- A. The policy deletes any past versions of the object after the specified time and deletes any current version of the object.
- B. The policy deletes any past versions of the object after the specified time and does not delete any current version of the object.
- C. The policy deletes the current version of the object after the specified time and does not delete any past versions of the object.
- D. The policy does not delete the current version of the object after the specified time and does not delete any past versions of the object.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 87

A team of developers are working on a new processing application and requires a solution where they can upload the ... code for testing API calls. Older iterations should be retained as newer code is developer and tested.

- A. Create an SMB Share with Files and enable Previous Version
- B. Provision a Volume Group and connect via iSCSI with MPIO.
- C. Create a bucket in Objects with Versioning enabled.
- D. Create an NFS Share, mounted on a Linux Server with Files.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 88

A company uses a Nutanix 3-node cluster environment. In Prism Pro, the Capacity Runway shows these capacity values:

Max Capacity: 6 TiB

Effective Capacity 4 TiB

The company wants to upgrade the environment to use an RF3 container and also requires all cluster nodes to be the same model, What must the effective capacity Of the Nutanix cluster be to support the new RF3 container?

- A. 10 TiB
- B. 9 TiB
- C. 4 TiB
- D. 6 TiB

Answer: B

Explanation:

To support a new RF3 container, the effective capacity of the Nutanix cluster must be at least three times the size of the data that needs to be stored on it3. This is because RF3 means that each data block is replicated three times across different nodes or blocks for fault tolerance3.

This is because if you have 4 TiB of effective capacity with RF2 (which means each data block is replicated twice), then you need 9 TiB of effective capacity with RF3 (which means each data block is replicated three times).

NEW QUESTION # 89

Which statement is true regarding Self-Service Restore?

- A. Supported with a Starter license.
- B. Supports Windows and Linux.
- C. Does not require NGT on the VM.
- D. Supports 15 minute snapshots.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 90

A company requires that object data that is unused for a period of 12 months should be moved to AWS Glacier. This should be applied immediately to all new and existing data within the organization.

An administrator creates and applies the tiering rule. but observes that no existing data is moved from buckets where the tiering rule is applied, despite being created over 12 months ago.

What is the reason for data over 12 months old failing to tier?

- A. Apply to existing data option has not been selected on the lifecycle rule.
- B. The category has not been added to existing data.
- C. Tiering lifecycle policies are non-retroactive.
- D. Enable versioning has not been selected on the Tiering Endpoint configuration.

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to Nutanix Support & Insights1, "When you create a lifecycle policy for a bucket, you can choose whether to apply it only to new objects that are added after creating the policy or also apply it retroactively to existing objects." Therefore, if this option is not selected, then existing data will not be moved by the tiering rule.
