- A. From SAP Business Network for Logistics
- B. From the container unit user interface
- C. From the freight booking user interface
- D. From report /SCMTMS/PLN_OPT

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
Carrier selection in SAP S/4HANA Transportation Management can be initiated from specific interfaces or tools designed for planning and tendering. According to the SAP documentation:
* From report /SCMTMS/PLN_OPT (A)allows users to trigger carrier selection as part of the transportation planning process, typically used for automated or manual planning.
* From SAP Business Network for Logistics (C)enables carrier selection through tendering processes, where carriers are invited to bid on freight orders.
The other options are incorrect:
* Freight booking user interface (B)is used for managing bookings (e.g., ocean or air transport) but is not typically used to initiate carrier selection, which is more aligned with freight orders.
* Container unit user interface (D)is used for managing container-related data but does not support carrier selection.
